Nantucket is a tiny island with a huge history. In his first book of history, Away Off Shore, New York Times bestselling author Nathaniel Philbrick reveals the people and the stories behind what was once the whaling capital of the world. Beyond its charm, quaint local traditions, and whaling yarns, Philbrick explores the origins of Nantucket in this comprehensive history. From the English settlers who thought they were purchasing a “Native American ghost town” but actually found a fully realized society, through the rise and fall of the then thriving whaling industry, the story of Nantucket is a unique chapter of American history.

“Nathaniel Philbrick has written a gem of a book. Away Off Shore is meticulously detailed, filled with fine anecdotes, and a fascinating look at a fascinating place.”

—H. G. Bissinger, author of Friday Night Lights

JOHN LE CARRÉ is the nom de plume of David Cornwell, who was a member of the British Foreign Service from 1959 to 1964. Many of his books have been made into films, including The Constant Gardener, The Russia House, and The Little Drummer Girl. He divides his time between London and Cornwall.

The highly anticipated Penguin debut by John le Carré,
 “one of the most intelligent and entertaining writers working today” (Chicago Tribune)

IN THIS NEW, exquisitely told novel, John le Carré shows us once again his acute understanding of the world we live in and where power really lies. In the wake of the collapse of Lehman Brothers and with Britain on the brink of economic ruin, a young English couple become helpless pawns in a game of nations that reveals the unholy alliances between the Russian mafia, the city of London, the government, and the competing factions of the British Secret Service.

“Part vintage le Carré and part Alfred Hitchcock . . . the author’s most thrilling thriller in years.” —Michiko Kakutani, The New York Times

“One of the deftest of [le Carré’s] recent novels and certainly the most timely. . . . It’s a meaty tale, told with consummate skill.” —Time

“Daring . . . a ripping good story steeped in ugly truths.” —USA Today

THE SUMMER OF LE CARRÉ—

Penguin proudly presents six of John le Carré's brilliant novels with stunning, bold new covers

WITH A CAREER THAT SPANS FIVE DECADES and an iconic backlist that includes twenty-one novels published in thirty-six languages, John le Carré is, without question, one of the greatest living English writers. In addition to his latest New York Times bestseller, Our Kind of Traitor, Penguin will also publish six earlier novels—including Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy, soon to be a major motion picture.

“Le Carré continues to be the world’s most reliable witness to the vicissitudes of international paranoia . . . keeping the reader close to the exact lineaments of the way we live now.”

—The New York Review of Books

“Le Carré is untouchable.” —The Boston Globe

“His command of detail is staggering, his straightforward, unaffected prose is superb.”

—The Sunday Times (London)

“The constant flow of emotion lifts [le Carré] not only above all modern suspense novelists, but above most novelists now practicing.” —Financial Times

“Nobody writing today manipulates suspense better.” —The Sunday Telegraph

JAN KARON is the bestselling author of the Mitford series and Home to Holly Springs. She lives in Virginia.

The novel Jan Karon calls her “personal favorite”

LAUNCHED WITH a three-month stay on the New York Times hardcover bestseller list, In the Company of Others follows Father Tim Kavanagh—now retired from tending his flock—as he makes good on a promise to show his wife, Cynthia, the land of his Irish ancestors. In a charming fishing lodge in County Sligo, any hope for a peaceful sojourn is dashed by an intruder, a stolen painting, and a bitter family conflict dating back three generations. New and old fans alike will be riveted by this compelling tale of the desperate struggle to hide the truth at any cost and the powerful need to confess.

“There’s not a soul here who’s not fascinating; each is flawed but sympathetic, and together, as in her previous work, they bring heart to Karon’s novel of forgiveness and reconciliation.” —Richmond Times-Dispatch

“Heartfelt. Rich. Engaging.” —Publishers Weekly

INGRID BETANCOURT was born on December 25, 1961, in Bogotá, Colombia. As a politician and presidential candidate, she was celebrated for her determination to combat widespread corruption in Colombia. She now lives in New York City and Paris, France.

“Betancourt’s riveting account . . . is an unforgettable epic of moral courage and human endurance.”

—Los Angeles Times

IN THE MIDST OF HER CAMPAIGN for the Colombian presidency in 2002, Ingrid Betancourt traveled into a military-controlled region, where she was abducted by the FARC, a brutal terrorist guerrilla organization in conflict with the government. She would spend the next six and a half years captive in the depths of the Colombian jungle. Even Silence Has an End is her deeply moving and personal account of that time. The facts of her story are astounding, but it is Betancourt’s indomitable spirit that drives this very special narrative—an intensely intelligent, thoughtful, and compassionate reflection on what it really means to be human.

“Gripping . . . the significance of Betancourt’s memoir must not be obscured.”

—The New York Times Book Review

“For all its horror and injustice, the experience of the political prisoner held in inhuman conditions has often been transformed into compelling literature; just think of Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn and The Gulag Archipelago or novelists like Dumas and Arthur Koestler. . . . Betancourt joins that distinguished company.”

—The New York Times

“Betancourt’s passion for freedom, her refusal to truckle to her captors, is admirable, and shines through the pages of this book . . . This is [Betancourt’s] ultimate reply to her critics. And it is a good one.” —Austin American-Statesman

SOPHIE HANNAH is an award-winning poet in addition to being a bestselling crime fiction writer. She lives in Cambridge, England, with her husband and two children.

“This book’s triumph is that it is not just a perfectly executed psychological thriller, but a pertinent meditation on society itself.” —The Guardian

TELEVISION PRODUCER Fliss Benson is surprised to discover that her superstar boss, Laurie Nattrass, is stepping down—and that she is to take over his documentary about crib-death mothers wrongly accused of murder. Thanks to Nattrass’s advocacy, three women are now free, while the doctor who testified against them is under investigation for misconduct. Then one of the mothers is found dead. In her pocket is a card with sixteen numbers on it, arranged in four rows of four—exactly like the anonymous card Fliss has just received in the mail. A masterful tale of psychological suspense, The Cradle in the Grave will transfix Sophie Hannah’s fast-growing audience.

“Hannah takes domestic scenarios . . . and turns up the suspense until you’re checking under the bed for murders.” —The Independent

“The narrative races along with the reader breathlessly trying to catch up . . . destined for bestsellerdom.” —Daily Mail (U.K.)

A dystopian thriller about a future world without death— and its unforeseen consequences

FAST-PACED and brilliantly conceived, The Postmortal is at once a gripping account of an average man on the run from government forces and a scathing critique of modern society's obsession with vanity and youth. A fresh, bold take on the speculative novel, the story imagines a near future where a cure for aging is discovered and—after much political and moral debate—made available worldwide. Immortality, however, comes with its own unique problems—including evil green people, government euthanasia programs, and a disturbing new religious cult. Witty, eerie, and full of humanity, The Postmortal envisions a preapocalyptic world so real that it is completely terrifying.

“Drew Magary’s haunting first novel imagines a postmodern dystopia that would seem far-fetched if it didn’t seem so possible. The Postmortal will make you regret ever wondering, even secretly, what it would be like to live forever.”

—Stefan Fatsis, author of Word Freak and A Few Seconds of Panic

“A darkly comic, totally gonzo, and effectively frightening population-bomb dystopia in the spirit of Logan’s Run, Soylent Green, and the best episodes of The Twilight Zone.”

—Neal Pollack, author of Alternadad and Stretch

“I suppose you could wait for the inevitable Postmortal movie. But then you might miss Magary’s rendering, his word play, his singular sense of humor. A novel that is at once bracingly funny and—get this, Deadspin Nation—unmistakably poignant.”

—Jon Wertheim, author of Scorecasting: The Hidden Influences Behind Sports

What Your Doctor Won't Tell You About Getting Older

An Insider's Survival Manual for Outsmarting the Health-Care System

AGING WELL frequently involves feeling your way blindly through a complex medical world: dealing with multiple doctors, facing baffling financial decisions, and figuring out whether you or a parent needs care outside the home. What Your Doctor Won't Tell You About Getting Older turns the lights on, illuminating potential pitfalls and showing a way around them. This book is an indispensable survival guide, gathering all the information you need to have but that too often doctors just don't give you. Writing with great experience and good humor, renowned geriatrician Mark Lachs explains how to choose your doctors, stay out of the emergency room, plan financially for retirement, outfit your house to stay safe, and, most important, how to have as many healthy years as possible.

BEVERLY JENSEN

The Sisters from Hardscrabble Bay

Fiction

PUBLISHED POSTHUMOUSLY through the efforts of Beverly Jensen’s many supporters, this widely acclaimed novel-in-stories offers a richly textured portrait of a bygone era. In 1916, Idella and Avis Hillock live on the edge of a chilly bluff in New Brunswick—a barren world of potato farms and lobster traps, rough men, hard work, and baffling beauty. From “Gone,” the heartbreaking account of the crisis that changed their lives forever, through “Wake,” a darkly comic saga of funeral plans gone awry, The Sisters from Hardscrabble Bay beautifully charts the trajectory of the Hillocks’ divergent lives against the background of a lost slice of Americana.

My Teenage Werewolf

A Mother, a Daughter, a Journey Through the Thicket of Adolescence

WITH THE EYE of a reporter, the curiosity of an anthropologist, and the open—and sometimes wounded—heart of a mother, award-winning author Lauren Kessler launches an eighteen-month mission, embedding herself in her about-to-be-teenage daughter Lizzie’s life. Everywhere from middle school classrooms to the mall, from summer camp to online chat groups, Kessler observes and chronicles—and sometimes participates in—the vibrant, dynamic, and scary life of a twenty-first-century teen.

Short Stories in Chinese

New Penguin Parallel Text

Edited by John Balcom

HERE IS THE perfect introduction to contemporary fiction from the world's most spoken language. These eight short stories, with parallel translations, offer students at all levels the opportunity to enjoy a wide range of contemporary literature without having constantly to refer to a dictionary. Richly diverse in themes and styles, the stories are by both new and well-established writers and range from a story by Li Rui about the honest simplicity of a Shanxi farmer to a story by Ma Yuan exposing the seamy underside of contemporary urban society. Complete with notes, these selections make excellent reading in either language.

JOHN BALCOM is an award-winning translator, a past president of the American Literary Translators Association, and an associate professor and the head of the Chinese program at the Monterey Institute of International Studies.

RON CHERNOW is the prize-winning author of five previous books, including Alexander Hamilton, The House of Morgan, and Titan: The Life of John D. Rockefeller, Sr. He lives in Brooklyn, New York.

“The best, most comprehensive, and most balanced single-volume biography of Washington ever written.”
—Gordon S. Wood, The New York Review of Books

CELEBRATED BIOGRAPHER Ron Chernow provides a richly nuanced portrait of the father of our nation. With a breadth and depth matched by no other one-volume life of George Washington, this crisply paced narrative carries the reader through his adventurous early years, his heroic exploits with the Continental Army, his presiding over the Continental Convention, and his magnificent performance as America’s first president. In this groundbreaking work, based on massive research, Chernow shatters forever the stereotype of a stolid, unemotional figure and brings to vivid life a dashing, passionate man of fiery opinions and many moods.

“Truly magnificent . . . [a] well-researched, well-written, and absolutely definitive biography.” —The Wall Street Journal

“Nothing short of phenomenal . . . never before has Washington been rendered so tangibly in such a smart, tenaciously researched volume as Chernow’s opus . . . a riveting read.” —Los Angeles Times

“I can’t recommend it highly enough—as history, as epic, and, not least, as entertainment. It’s as luxuriantly pleasurable as one of those great big sprawling, sweeping Victorian novels.” —Hendrik Hertzberg, The New Yorker

If Bridget Jones had two ex-husbands, three children, and invited her entire extended family over for Christmas . . .

IT'S DECEMBER 23, and Clara Dunphy is running around Oxford Street like a chicken with its head cut off trying to pick up "a few last-minute bits and bobs." Despite the frenzy, the twice-divorced mother of three loves Christmas and always wants to make it perfect. A challenge even in the best of times, but particularly when "family" means an extended network of in-laws, out-laws, ex-stepfathers, and hangers-on, totaling sixteen. Is the madness of Christmas really worth it? Clara is a witty, blackly funny everywoman who will win over anyone who has ever longed to shut out the holidays with "a giant martini . . . and some olives."

"Riotously high in laughs and glamour. I defy a festive grump not to be cheered by it."

The Potter's Field

An Inspector Montalbano Mystery

Translated by Stephen Sartarelli

WITTY AND ENTERTAINING, the Montalbano novels by Andrea Camilleri—a master of the Italian detective story—have become favorites of mystery fans everywhere. In this latest installment, an unidentified corpse is found near Vigàta, a town known for its soil rich with potter's clay. Meanwhile, a woman reports the disappearance of her husband, a Colombian man with Sicilian origins who turns out to be related to a local mobster. Then Inspector Montalbano remembers the story from the Bible—Judas's betrayal, the act of remorse, and the money for the potter's field, where those of unknown or foreign origin are to be buried—and slowly, through myriad betrayals, finds his way to the solution to the crime.

"The homegrown [Italian] writer often scores on the level of economical evocation. Featuring prominently in this department is Andrea Camilleri, the inventor of the Inspector Montalbano mysteries. Montalbano's bailiwick is Sicily. If mainland Italy is corrupt, Sicily is corrupter, and Montalbano has some plenty-mean streets to walk down. ## The Secret History of MI6

1909–1949

BRITAIN’S SPECIAL Intelligence Service, commonly called MI6, is not only the oldest and most storied foreign intelligence unit in the world—it is also the only one to open its archives to an outside researcher. The result, in this authorized history, is an unprecedented and revelatory look at an organization that essentially created, over the course of two world wars, the modern craft of spying. Examining innovations from invisible ink and industrial-scale cryptography to dramatic setbacks like the Nazi sting operations to bag British operatives, this groundbreaking history is as engrossing as any thriller—and much more revealing.

What Technology Wants

IN THIS PROVOCATIVE BOOK, one of today's most respected thinkers turns the conversation about technology on its head by viewing technology as a natural system, an extension of biological evolution. By mapping the behavior of life, we paradoxically get a glimpse at where technology is headed—or “what it wants.” Kevin Kelly offers a dozen trajectories in the coming decades for this near-living system. And as we align ourselves with technology's agenda, we can capture its colossal potential. This visionary and optimistic book explores how technology gives our lives greater meaning and is a must-read for anyone curious about the future.

STELLA DUFFY grew up in New Zealand and now lives in London. She is the award-winning author of seven literary novels, a detective series, eight plays, and more than forty short stories.

“A bravura performance: a witty, moving, sexy book that bursts with as much color and excitement as the city of Constantinople itself.” —Financial Times

ROMAN HISTORIAN PROCOPIUS publicly praised Theodora of Constantinople for her piety—while secretly detailing her salacious stage act and maligning her as ruthless and power hungry. So who was this woman who rose from humble beginnings as a dancer to become the empress of Rome and a saint in the Orthodox Church? Award-winning novelist Stella Duffy vividly recreates the life and times of a woman who left her mark on one of the ancient world’s most powerful empires. Theodora: Actress, Empress, Whore is a sexy, captivating novel that resurrects an extraordinary, little-known figure from the dusty pages of history.

“Duffy’s passion for her heroine, the charismatic Theodora, is evident on every page. The result is a novel that remains true to its historical sources, whilst managing to reinvent its subject matter with great freshness and verve. A vivid and affectionate portrait of one of the most fascinating personalities of the ancient world.”

—Sarah Waters, author of The Little Stranger

“A compelling, and at times racy, historical novel with its portrait of a remarkable woman.” —The Times Literary Supplement (London)

“Theodora’s rise from dancing girl and whore to Empress of Constantinople is a delight in all ways . . . magical, moving, and inspiring in one, this is easily Duffy’s best novel to date—and that’s setting the bar pretty high.”

—Manda Scott, author of Rome: The Emperor’s Spy

“Duffy has carefully followed the history of this woman, but has achieved something much more: the creation for her heroine of a real inner life, which is the most affecting achievement of a historical novel.” —The Independent (U.K.)

LESLIE MARMON SILKO

The Turquoise Ledge

A Memoir

WITH THE PUBLICATION of Ceremony in 1978, Leslie Marmon Silko established herself as a storyteller of unique power and brilliance. Now, in her first work of nonfiction, Silko combines memoir with family history and observations on the creatures and desert landscapes that command her attention and inform her vision of the world. Ambitious in scope and full of wonderfully plainspoken and evocative lyricism, The Turquoise Ledge is both an exploration of Silko's experience and a moving and deeply personal contemplation of the enormous spiritual power of the natural world.

"Evocative . . . an exploration of Silko's relationship with the natural and spiritual worlds—and it's a very close relationship."

—The New York Times Book Review

"Silko writes in the language of the spirit . . . this memoir is not only like being inside her head, it is like eavesdropping on her silent conversations with her gods." —Los Angeles Times

LESLIE MARMON SILKO is the author of the novels Ceremony, Almanac of the Dead, and Gardens of the Dunes, as well as many short stories, poems, and essays. She lives in Tucson, Arizona.

JAMES KING

Bill Warrington’s Last Chance

A Novel

JAMES KING’S ACCLAIMED DEBUT novel is a rich multigenerational saga that soars with compassion and insight into the pain and joy of family life. Confronted with a diagnosis of Alzheimer’s that threatens his most cherished memories, Bill Warrington—a monumentally stubborn ex-Marine—hatches a daring scheme to grab the attention of his three grown children and patch up their differences. April, his fifteen-year-old granddaughter, wants nothing so much as to become a rock star on the West Coast, making her the perfect—and perfectly willing—abductee on a cross-country trip. With the panorama of America as its backdrop, their adventure becomes an unforgettable journey of discovery and atonement.

“Perhaps one of the best things you can say about a novel is that the story lingers after you finish it. I have gone on thinking about this one without trying.”

—Sue Monk Kidd, author of The Secret Life of Bees

“This is what reading is about and what a good book is supposed to do.” —Sue Grafton

JAMES KING lives in Wilton, Connecticut, with his wife and two children. This is his first novel.

CHARLES SEIFE

Proofiness

How You're Being Fooled by the Numbers

IN ZERO, Charles Seife presented readers with a thrilling account of the strangest number known to humankind. Now he shows readers how the power of skewed metrics—or “proofiness”—is being used to alter perception in both amusing and dangerous ways. Proofiness is behind such bizarre stories as a mathematical formula for the perfect butt and sprinters who can run faster than the speed of sound. But proofiness also has a dark side: bogus mathematical formulas used to undermine our democracy—subverting our justice system, fixing elections, and swaying public opinion with lies. By doing the real math, Seife elegantly and good-humoredly scrutinizes our growing obsession with metrics while exposing those who misuse them.

RICHARD OVERY

1939

Countdown to War

A BRILLIANTLY CONCISE narrative of the days leading to the outbreak of history’s greatest conflagration, 1939 takes readers hour by hour through the nail-biting decisions that determined the fate of millions. Richard Overy, a leading historian of the period, masterfully recreates the jockeying for advantage that set Europe’s greatest powers on a collision course. Would Stalin join Hitler in a bid to divide Poland and flout the West? Would Britain and France succeed in forcing Germany to reason? And how far would a defiant Poland push its claim to exist? In the summer of 1939, the course of events was anything but assured, as this exceptionally absorbing book drives home.

“Brilliantly executed . . . reads like a tense political thriller.”

—Sunday Telegraph (U.K.)

“A gripping analysis of the final days of peace . . . indispensable.”

—The Times (London)

RICHARD OVERY is a professor of history at the University of Exeter, U.K. A leading expert on the history of the Second World War, he has written such acclaimed books as The Twilight Years, Why the Allies Won, and The Dictators, winner of the Wolfson Prize in 2005.

The Hellhound of Wall Street

How Ferdinand Pecora’s Investigation of the Great Crash Forever Changed American Finance

A RIVETING courtroom drama with remarkable contemporary relevance, The Hellhound of Wall Street brings to life a crucial turning point in American financial history: the 1933 hearings that put Wall Street on trial for the Great Crash. Michael Perino recreates the ten dramatic days when Ferdinand Pecora, a Sicilian immigrant turned Senate investigator, cross-examined the officers of National City Bank (today’s Citigroup), particularly its chairman, Charles Mitchell, one of the best-known bankers of his day. Pecora’s rigorous questioning exposed City Bank’s shocking financial abuses, revelations that galvanized public opinion and led directly to the New Deal’s landmark economic reforms.

Gandhi

A Manga Biography

THROUGH HIS QUIETLY powerful leadership and influential use of nonviolent resistance in India's struggle against the British Raj, Mahatma Gandhi became one of the most revered figures of the modern era. While history has recorded Gandhi's words and deeds, the man himself has been eclipsed by maxims of virtuosity that seem to have little resonance in our everyday lives. In Gandhi, the third volume in our exciting new manga biography series, created in conjunction with Emotional Content, Kazuki Ebine combines a gripping narrative with stunning illustrations to share Gandhi's inspiring and deeply human story with a whole new generation of readers.

More unforgettable Sherlock Holmes mysteries for fans of the hit movies

ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes

SHERLOCK HOLMES, the world's best-known and most-loved fictional detective, is more popular today than ever. This collection presents many of the most familiar cases Holmes and his assistant, Dr. Watson, ever solve, including "Silver Blaze," "The Greek Interpreter," and "The Musgrave Ritual." As Holmes's fame grows, it brings him notoriety that piques the ire of London's criminal underworld, who begin to scheme against him. It is in "The Final Problem" that Dr. Watson relates the grisly, fatal, and shocking tale of how Holmes finally meets his match, encountering the diabolical Professor Moriarty in a terrible struggle at Reichenbach Falls.

Guy Ritchie's Sherlock Holmes sequel, starring Robert Downey, Jr., Jude Law, Rachel McAdams, Noomi Rapace, and Stephen Fry, will be coming to theaters in December 2011.

WILLIAM STOBB

Absentia

WILLIAM STOBB HAS WON acclaim for wide-ranging poetry that features tender realism, jazzy dissonance, luminous descriptions, and, in the words of Donald Revell, a “strange and elegantly accomplished serenity of tensions attenuated to their uttermost.” The poems in his second collection, Absentia, see the big picture—the sweep of history, the ongoing evolution of consciousness, evidence of geological time in the landscape. Humbled by scales beyond comprehension, Stobb is nonetheless seduced and stricken by the present in its many manifestations. Whether dealing with family, friends, or nature, the poems in Absentia, with their rich emotional palette and vivid, precise language, respond and transform, calling us to attend to the wide skies above and inside us.

Terroir

ROBERT MORGAN HAS WON acclaim for sonorous poems rooted in his native Blue Ridge Mountains that feature taut, forceful, often haunting imagery and carefully chiseled phrases. The poems in Terroir build on his earlier work but reach out in several new directions, exploring memory, family narratives, the natural world of trees and forest animals, and the poetry of work. Readers of Morgan's fiction will recognize many places, themes, and voices, while fans of his poetry will see a fresh energy in poems drawing on science and folklore, Native American history, and music. These elegantly written poems celebrate everything from the bonds of friendship and community to the fleeting sparkle of a drop of rain, discovering wonder in the local and familiar, the sacred in the everyday.

The Campus Trilogy

Changing Places, Small World, and Nice Work

DAVID LODGE'S three delightfully sophisticated campus novels, now gathered together in one volume, expose the world of academia at its best—and its worst. In Changing Places, we meet Philip Swallow, British lecturer in English at the University of Rummidge, and the flamboyant American Morris Zapp of Euphoric State University, who participate in a professorial exchange program at the close of the tumultuous sixties. Ten years later in Small World, older but not noticeably wiser, they are let loose on the international conference circuit—along with a memorable and somewhat oversexed cast of dozens. And in Nice Work, the leftist feminist Dr. Robyn Penrose at Rummidge University is assigned to shadow the director of a local engineering firm, sparking a collision of ideologies and lifestyles that seems unlikely to foster anything other than mutual antipathy.

“Lodge combines John Updike’s precise social observation with Philip Roth’s uproarious humor.” —Newsday

“Lodge’s wit . . . like that of Wodehouse, froths around and out of characters . . . hugely enjoyable.” —The Spectator

Penguin proudly presents an unparalleled survey of the best poems of the past century

RITA DOVE, Pulitzer Prize-winning poet and former U.S. Poet Laureate, introduces readers to the most significant and compelling poems of the past hundred years. Selecting from the canon of American poetry throughout the twentieth century, Dove has created an anthology that represents the full spectrum of aesthetic sensibilities—from styles and voices to themes and cultures—while balancing important poems with significant periods of each poet. Featuring poems both classic and contemporary, this collection reflects both a dynamic and cohesive portrait of modern American poetry and outlines its trajectory over the past century.

TED GUP is the author of the bestseller The Book of Honor and of Nation of Secrets. He is a professor and chair of the journalism department at Emerson College. A former investigative reporter for The Washington Post and Time, he has also written for The New York Times, Newsweek, GQ, Slate, and Salon.com.

“A wonderful reminder that economic hardship can bring suffering but can also foster compassion and community.” —The Boston Globe

IN HARD ECONOMIC TIMES like these, readers will find bestselling author Ted Gup’s unique book uplifting as well as captivating. Inside a suitcase kept in his mother’s attic, Gup discovered letters written to his grandfather in response to an ad placed in a Canton, Ohio, newspaper in 1933 that offered cash to seventy-five families facing a devastating Christmas. The author travels coast to coast to unveil the lives behind the letters, describing a range of hardships and recreating in his research the hopes and suffering of Depression-era Americans, even as he uncovers the secret life led by the grandfather he thought he knew.

“Some novels just naturally enslave you, and this is one of them. . . . Serious and gripping . . . [a] brilliant debut novel.” —The Washington Post

IT IS 1903, and Erika von Kessler has struggled for years to become pregnant. Resigned to childlessness, Erika—a talented opera singer and the wife of a prominent Bostonian—secretly plans to move to Italy to pursue her musical career. When the charismatic Doctor Ravell takes Erika on as a patient, he is mesmerized by her. Impetuously, he takes a shocking risk that could ruin them both.

Inspired by the author’s family history, the novel moves from snowy Boston to the gilded balconies of Florence in a stunning tale of opera, longing, and the indomitable power of romantic obsession.

“So beautifully written and lushly set it was impossible for me to put down.”

DAVID ROHDE AND
KRISTEN MULVIHILL

A Rope and a Prayer

The Story of a Kidnapping

IN NOVEMBER 2008, David Rohde, a Pulitzer Prize-winning correspondent for The New York Times, was kidnapped by the Taliban and held captive for seven months in the tribal areas of Pakistan. In the process, Rohde became the first American to witness how Pakistan's powerful military turns a blind eye toward a Taliban ministate thriving inside its borders. In New York, David's wife Kristen Mulvihill, together with his family, kept the kidnapping secret for David's safety and struggled to navigate a labyrinth of conflicting agendas, misinformation, and lies. Part memoir, part work of journalism, A Rope and a Prayer is a story of duplicity, faith, resilience, and love.

GARRISON KEILLOR

A Christmas Blizzard

A Novel

SNOW IS FALLING all across the Midwest as James Sparrow, a country-bumpkin-turned-energy-drink-tycoon, and his wife awaken in their sky-rise apartment overlooking Chicago. Even down with the stomach bug, Mrs. Sparrow yearns to see The Nutcracker while James yearns only to escape—the faux-cheer, the bitter cold, the whole Christmas season. An urgent phone call from his hometown of Looseleaf, North Dakota, sends James into the midst of his lunatic relatives and a historic blizzard. As he hunkers weather the storm, the electricity goes out and James is visited by a parade of figures who deliver him an epiphany worthy of the season, just in time to receive Mrs. Sparrow’s wonderful Christmas gift. Garrison Keillor’s holiday farce is the perfect gift for the millions of fans who tune into A Prairie Home Companion every week.

JIM CARROLL

The Petting Zoo

A Novel

Preface by Patti Smith

SUFFUSED WITH Jim Carroll’s humor and sharp wit, his delicate yet hallucinatory imagery, and his cool, sophisticated, street-smart voice, The Petting Zoo is a frank, haunting examination of one artist’s personal and spiritual quest. Billy Wolfram, an enigmatic thirty-eight-year-old star of the late-1980s New York art scene, views a show of Velázquez paintings and is so humbled by their spiritual power that he suffers an emotional breakdown and retreats to his Chelsea loft. In seclusion, he recalls the most emblematic moments and figures of his childhood and early career as he searches to recover the spark of inspiration in his own work and life.

“With the posthumous publication of The Petting Zoo we see how seriously Carroll took his responsibilities as a poet, the person who translates pain and beauty for the rest of us.”

—The Portland Oregonian

“A well-steered, sincere exploration of the art world’s secretive inner politics . . . Carroll’s typically trippy imagery runs freely throughout the novel; his Manhattan is eternally seedy and unspooled by sin.” —The Village Voice

JIM CARROLL (1949–2009) was the author of two acclaimed memoirs, The Basketball Diaries—a bestseller that was adapted as a film starring Leonardo DiCaprio in 1995—and Forced Entries: The Downtown Diaries 1971–1973, as well as several collections of poetry.

Jim Carroll's bestselling classic account of a wise-ass kid getting wiser on the streets of New York

FIRST PUBLISHED in 1978, The Basketball Diaries chronicles the late Jim Carroll's years as a rebellious teenager making a name for himself on the unforgiving streets of New York City. During these years, he recorded his experiences with sex, drugs, and basketball, and the result is a diary of unparalleled candor that depicts his alternately hilarious and terrifying teenage existence. Highly influential and a New York Times bestseller, The Basketball Diaries remains a cult-classic narrative of underground culture in the mid-1960s.

Sea Change

A Novel

FROM THE ACCLAIMED author of Salt comes this exquisitely written and deeply haunting novel of love and family. When a terrible tragedy changes his family forever, Guy—alone and searching for answers—embarks in his old barge on the stormy waters of the North Sea, writing in his diary about the man he might have been and the family he should have had. His voyage unfolds in unexpected ways, and when he meets two women at sea on a similar quest, Guy realizes that it just might be possible to begin his life again.

“‘Sea Change,’ borrowed from Shakespeare, means transformation, and Guy’s reminds us that love can heal even the worst wounds.” —People

NADINE GORDIMER

Life Times

Stories

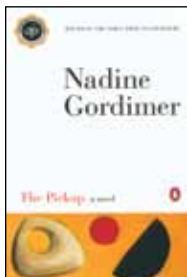

A SELECTION of short stories written to date by Nobel Laureate Nadine Gordimer, Life Times reveals her acute understanding of human nature and paints a fascinatingly original portrait of South Africa. Whether focusing on politics, sexuality, race, love, or loss, Gordimer maps out the terrain of human relationships with razor-sharp psychological insight and a stunning lack of sentimentality. Complex and multifaceted, her stories challenge us, time and again, to examine the conflict between our actions and our unspoken desires. This powerful collection, which includes two new stories, is a testament to Gordimer’s literary genius and the ongoing power and relevance of her vision.

CATHERINE GILDINER

After the Falls

Coming of Age in the Sixties

CATHERINE GILDINER SHARES the next chapter in a story that has already captivated many readers. It's 1960, and twelve-year-old Cathy McClure has just been thrown out of Catholic school for filling the holy water font with vodka. Hoping to give her a fresh start, Cathy's parents leave behind small-town Niagara Falls for suburban Buffalo. There, as the quaint world of 1950s America recedes into history, Cathy dives headfirst into the tumultuous new decade. But when tragedy strikes at home, Cathy—vandal, HoJo hostess, and civil rights demonstrator—must take on her most challenging role yet.

LEWISTON, NEW YORK, was a sleepy town near Niagara Falls where divorce was unheard of, mothers wore high heels to the beauty salon, and the television had only just arrived. In Too Close to the Falls, Catherine Gildiner takes us from her early years accompanying Roy the deliveryman on some of his more unusual deliveries—including a trip to bring sleeping pills to Marilyn Monroe—to her ferocious questioning of her Catholic upbringing in her teenage years. Her memoir, by turns hilarious and moving, serves as a gorgeous portrayal of childhood in the 1950s.

One young food writer's search for America's lost wild foods, from New Orleans croakers to Illinois prairie hens, with Mark Twain as his guide

ANDREW BEAHR'S

Twain's Feast

Searching for America's Lost Foods in the Footsteps of Samuel Clemens

IN 1879, Mark Twain paused during a European tour to compose a fantasy menu of the American dishes he missed the most. A true love letter to American food, the menu included some eighty specialties, from Mississippi black bass to Philadelphia terrapin. Andrew Behrs chooses eight of these regionally distinctive foods, retracing Twain's footsteps as he sets out to discover whether they can still be found on American tables. Weaving together passages from Twain's famous works and Behrs's own adventures, this travelogue-cum-culinary-history takes us back to a bygone era when wild foods were at the heart of American cooking.

Vintage Postcards from Vanity Fair

One Hundred Classic Covers, 1913–1936

IN 1913, publisher Condé Nast founded Vanity Fair, a magazine that would celebrate the culture, politics, lifestyles, and humor of the world's "smart set." The magazine discovered or lent invaluable support to such varied names as Dorothy Parker, e. e. cummings, Noël Coward, Gertrude Stein, P. G. Wodehouse, Cecil Beaton, Edward Steichen, and Man Ray, and frequently reproduced works by the likes of Matisse and Picasso long before anyone in the mainstream press would dare. Edited by Vanity Fair editor Graydon Carter, this elegant collection of postcards includes one hundred of these groundbreaking covers, representing more than twenty years of cosmopolitan Jazz Age design in one box.

Final reflections on a happy life—from acclaimed historian
Tony Judt

TONY JUDT

The Memory Chalet

TONY JUDT'S The Memory Chalet is a memoir unlike any other. Each essay brings the smallest details of personal experience into the larger frame of history. Judt's youthful love of a London bus route becomes a reflection on public civility. Food and trains and smells all come alive as Judt takes us from the postwar London of his childhood through Paris, Prague, and points east to New York, where he found his home. Judt brings his moral clarity and wit to bear on everything from fast cars to radical politics and, finally, the devastating illness that took his life. This book, composed when Judt was paralyzed and unable physically to write, found its shape in the ordered rooms of a Swiss Chalet of the mind: a warm refuge in the closing darkness of his final years.

An Uncertain Place

A Commissaire Adamsberg Mystery

Translated by Siân Reynolds

WHEN COMMISSAIRE Jean-Baptiste Adamsberg, the chief of police in Paris's seventh arrondissement, is called to the scene of a ghastly and highly unusual murder, he thinks it can't have anything to do with the nine pairs of shoes and severed feet discovered outside of London's Highgate Cemetery just a few days earlier. With the help of the murdered man's gifted physician, Adamsberg delves into the victim's disturbed psyche and unexpectedly finds himself on a path that takes him deep into the haunted past of Eastern Europe, where a centuries-old horror has come to life and is claiming victims far and wide.

What better place to spend the holidays than Cold Comfort Farm?

STELLA GIBBONS Christmas at Cold Comfort Farm

AVAILABLE FOR the first time since its original publication more than fifty years ago, Christmas at Cold Comfort Farm is a charming collection whose hilarious title story features Christmas dinner with the Starkadders before Flora's arrival. With Adam playing Santa while draped in Mrs. Starkadders's shawls, the family shares their traditional "Christmas pudding"—a mélange containing random objects of doom foretelling the coming year: a coffin nail for death, a bad sixpence for financial ruin, and a menthol cone to indicate that the lucky recipient will go "blind wi' headache." These lively tales will delight anyone who loves Stella Gibbons and her signature wit.

TIM MALTIN WITH ELOISE ASTON

101 Things You Thought You Knew About the Titanic . . . but Didn't

PEOPLE HAVE AN ENDLESS fascination with the Titanic, yet much of what they know today is a mixture of fact and fiction. In one hundred and one brief and engaging chapters, Tim Maltin, one of the foremost experts on the Titanic, reveals the truth behind the most common beliefs about the ship and the night it sank. From physics to photographs, lawsuits to love stories, Maltin doesn't miss one tidbit surrounding its history. Heavily researched and filled with detailed descriptions, quotes from survivors, and excerpts from the official inquiries, this book is guaranteed to make readers rethink everything they thought they knew about the legendary ship and its tragic fate.

“Carefully researched and meticulously detailed, this book is a worthy addition to the library of anyone who has even a passing interest in the Titanic disaster.” —George Behe, vice president, Titanic Historical Society, 1992–1996

TIM MALTIN is a marketing and public relations consultant who has been researching the Titanic for more than twenty-five years. He lives in Wiltshire, England.

JANE SMILEY

Charles Dickens

A Life

WITH DELECTABLE WIT and characteristic sensitivity, Jane Smiley presents a fresh, illuminating take on the life of Charles Dickens. Smiley naturally finds a kindred spirit in the author of such classics as Great Expectations and A Christmas Carol, who was not only a prolific writer but also one of the first modern “celebrities.” She offers interpretations of many of Dickens’s major works, exploring his narrative techniques and his innovative voice and themes. Smiley’s Charles Dickens is at once a perceptive profile of the great master and a fascinating meditation on the writing life.

“A lucid account. Jane Smiley has enhanced our understanding of the work.” —The Atlantic Monthly

“An acrobatic—and also deeply satisfying—achievement.”

EDNA O'BRIEN

James Joyce

A Life

ARGUABLY THE MOST influential writer of the twentieth century, James Joyce continues to inspire writers, readers, and thinkers today. Now Edna O'Brien, herself one of Ireland's great writers, approaches the master as only a fellow countryman can. From Joyce's adolescence through his travels abroad to the publication of Ulysses—the scandalous masterpiece that was initially banned in the United States but later hailed as one of the most brilliant novels of the twentieth century—O'Brien traces the arc of Joyce's remarkable life. Her biography is a tribute, at once affectionate and stern, from a contemporary writer to one of our most significant literary ancestors.

MELISSA JONES

Emily Hudson

A Novel

BY THE START of the Civil War, Emily Hudson has lost her entire family to consumption. Wholly dependent upon her puritanical uncle, Emily forms a close bond with her ailing cousin, William, an ambitious young writer. When a promising engagement is broken, William, obsessed by Emily’s spirit and beauty, becomes her patron and takes her to England—only to manipulate and neglect her for the sake of his own creativity. There, Emily finally spurns her cousin’s rules and sets out alone to pursue an artist’s life in the eternal city of Rome. Reminiscent of the novels of Edith Wharton and the films of Merchant Ivory, Emily Hudson will resonate with anyone who has ever sought to be true to herself.

DIANA BERESFORD-KROEGER

The Global Forest

Forty Ways Trees Can Save Us

RENOWNED SCIENTIST Diana Beresford-Kroeger presents an unforgettable and highly original work of natural history with The Global Forest. She explores the fascinating and largely untapped ecological and pharmaceutical properties of trees: leaves that can comb the air of particulate pollution, fatty acids in the nuts of hickory and walnut trees that promote brain development, the compound in the water ash that helps prevent cancer, aerosols in pine trees that calm nerves. In precise, imaginative, and poetic prose, she describes the complexity and beauty of forests, as well as the environmental dangers they face. The author's indisputable passion for her subject matter will inspire readers to look at trees, and at their own connection to the natural world, with newfound awe.

ROBERT LITTELL Mother Russia

A Novel

LIKE THE ARKADY RENKO novels of Martin Cruz Smith, Robert Littell’s masterful Mother Russia transports readers back in time and behind the Iron Curtain to experience the extremes of Soviet society. Robespierre Pravdin is a black marketeer who prowls Moscow’s streets and alleys hustling wristwatches. Wishing only to survive in a city suffocated by paranoia and schizophrenia, Robespierre manages to make a tidy profit and stay under the state’s radar—until, one day, he meets the woman called “Mother Russia” and becomes ensnared in the Byzantine and profoundly dangerous game of politics. HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE PENGUIN CLASSICS FALL 2011 LIST

Continuing our yearlong celebration of our 65th anniversary, Penguin Classics presents a fall season full of vibrant color and variety. Here are some of our favorites:

September is Roald Dahl month, and we celebrate Dahl's September 13 birthday with his Penguin Classics debut: Deluxe Editions of Charlie and the Chocolate Factory and James and the Giant Peach. New York Times bestselling novelists Lev Grossman and Aimee Bender contribute new introductions, and graphic artists Ivan Brunetti and Jordan Crane create covers filled with wonder.

Named one of the 10 Best Books of the Year by New York magazine, Lydia Davis's bestselling translation of Madame Bovary by Gustave Flaubert is now available in an exquisite Penguin Classics Deluxe Edition.

Oh the horror! October belongs to master of the genre H. P. Lovecraft, whose The Call of Cthulhu and Other Weird Stories we publish in a wonderfully bizarre deluxe edition with cover art by Travis Louie. And making his Penguin Classics debut is the father of weird fiction, Arthur Machen, whose The White People and Other Weird Stories we publish with a foreword by Pan's Labyrinth filmmaker Guillermo del Toro.

Needle and thread, pen and paper—storytelling has many traditions. This holiday season, Penguin art director Paul Buckley presents the highly anticipated Penguin Threads series, inspired by the art of handmade crafts. The series debuts with three beautiful gift editions of Emma, The Secret Garden, and Black Beauty. With story, style, and texture, the Penguin Threads are already in-house favorites.

At year's end, we bring you F. Scott Fitzgerald and the Art Deco beauty and literature of the Jazz Age with silver, gold, and bronze Coralie Bickford-Smith–designed hardcovers to ring out the old and ring in the new.

A toast to classics readers in our anniversary year!

PENGUIN CLASSIC

An epic masterpiece of world literature, in a magnificent new translation by one of the most acclaimed translators of our time

A TOWERING FIGURE of the Renaissance, Luis de Góngora pioneered poetic forms so radically different from the dominant aesthetic of his time that he was derided as “the Prince of Darkness.” The Solitudes, his magnum opus, is an intoxicatingly lush novel-in-verse that follows the wanderings of a shipwrecked man who has been spurned by his lover. Wrenched from civilization and its attendant madness, the desolate hero is transported into a natural world that is at once menacing and sublime. In this stunning edition Edith Grossman captures the breathtaking beauty of a work that represents one of the high points of poetic achievement in any language.

“Góngora was one of the great surprises of the Spanish Renaissance. . . . [He] proved to be a poet of world stature, a figure comparable, say, to John Donne and George Herbert in English [and] a wildly imaginative and deeply rewarding poet of the senses.” —Edward Hirsch, from the Preface to Góngora

“Góngora demonstrates, as few other poets, an absolute trust in the creative powers of language. . . . [His] masterpiece may remind English-language writers of the new millennium that, whatever their new subjects and preoccupations, their craft is still one of words, in all their astonishing, intricate, illuminating, and artificial complexity.” —Alberto Manguel, from the Introduction

Charlie and the Chocolate Factory

Introduction by Lev Grossman

Cover art by Ivan Brunetti

TWICE TURNED into a feature film, Charlie and the Chocolate Factory is a delectable classic about a child's dreams and the eccentric chocolate-maker who makes them come true. When Willy Wonka's hallowed chocolate factory holds a worldwide contest awarding tours to the lucky, five children emerge as winners, including a glutton, a gum-chewing nitwit, a spoiled brat, and a TV addict. Only Charlie Bucket, the story's earnest hero, stands to win the exotic riches of Wonka's empire—if he avoids the pitfalls of his fellow contestants and stays true to his heart. Ingenious and entertaining, Charlie and the Chocolate Factory is a true modern classic.

James and the Giant Peach

Introduction by Aimee Bender

Cover art by Jordan Crane

ROALD DAHL'S perennial bestseller about a boy's magical journey across the sea, James and the Giant Peach, celebrates its fiftieth anniversary in 2011. When James, a boy stuck living with his cantankerous aunts, is given magic crystals by a sympathetic wizard, he accidentally drops them at the foot of the peach tree outside his house, causing one of the fruits to grow the size of a house. Inside he finds oversized insects who promise him deliverance from his aunts, and soon the giant peach is rolling downhill, bound for the Atlantic Ocean and beyond on a magnificent adventure that will take James and his new friends far indeed.

GUIBERT OF NOGENT

Monodies and On the Relics of Saints

The Autobiography and a Manifesto of a French Monk from the Time of the Crusades

Translated by Joseph McAlhany and Jay Rubenstein

Introduction and Notes by Jay Rubenstein

THE FIRST WESTERN autobiography since Augustine's Confessions, the Monodies is set against the backdrop of the First Crusade and offers stunning insights into medieval society. As Guibert of Nogent intimately recounts his early years, monastic life, and the bloody uprising at Laon in 1112, we witness a world—and a mind—populated by royals, heretics, nuns, witches, and devils, and come to understand just how fervently he was preoccupied with sin, sexuality, the afterlife, and the dark arts. Exotic, disquieting, and illuminating, the Monodies is a work in which the dreams, fears, and superstitions of one man illuminate the psychology of an entire people. It is joined in this volume by On the Relics of Saints, a theological manifesto that has never appeared in English until now.

GUIBERT OF NOGENT (c. 1060–c. 1125) was a French monk who has emerged as one of the most original thinkers of the twelfth century.

JOSEPH MCALHANY is an associate professor of great ideas and classics at Carthage College in Kenosha, Wisconsin.

JAY RUBENSTEIN, a MacArthur Fellow and Rhodes scholar, is an assistant professor of medieval history at the University of Tennessee–Knoxville and the author of the first comprehensive study of Guibert's life and thought in over a century.

The Portrait of a Lady

Edited with an Introduction by Philip Horne

IN THIS PORTRAIT of a “young woman affronting her destiny,” Henry James created one of his most magnificent heroines, and a story of intense poignancy. When Isabel Archer, a beautiful, spirited American, is brought to Europe by her wealthy aunt, it is expected that she will soon marry. But Isabel, resolved to enjoy her freedom, does not hesitate to turn down two eligible suitors. Then she finds herself irresistibly drawn to the charming and cultivated Gilbert Osmond. Isabel, however, soon discovers the cruelty and stifling darkness beneath Gilbert’s civilized veneer.

The Turn of the Screw

Edited with an Introduction by David Bromwich

HENRY JAMES, A MASTER of haunting atmosphere and riveting tension, presents one of the most famous ghost stories of all time. A young governess is sent to a country home to take charge of two orphans, and unsettled by a sense of intense evil within the house, becomes obsessed with the belief that malevolent forces are stalking the children in her care. Growing increasingly uneasy, she becomes drawn into a frightening battle against an unspeakable evil that may or may not be real.

The must-have deluxe edition of the fantastically acclaimed new translation of one of the world's most celebrated novels

EMMA BOVARY is the original desperate housewife. Beautiful but bored, she spends lavishly on clothes and on her home and embarks on two disappointing affairs in an effort to make her life everything she believes it should be. Soon heartbroken and crippled by debts, she takes drastic action, with tragic consequences for her husband and daughter. In this landmark new translation of Gustave Flaubert's masterwork, award-winning writer and translator Lydia Davis honors the nuances and particulars of Flaubert's legendary prose style, giving new life in English to the book that redefined the novel as an art form.

"[Flaubert's] masterwork has been given the English translation it deserves."

—Kathryn Harrison, The New York Times Book Review

"Invigorating . . . [Davis] has a finer ear for the natural cadences of English, in narrative and dialogue, than any of her predecessors."

—Jonathan Raban, The New York Review of Books

"One of the most important books of the year."

—James Wood, The New Yorker's Book Bench

"I'm grateful to Davis for luring me back to Madame Bovary and for giving us a version which strikes me as elegant and alive." —Maureen Corrigan, NPR's Fresh Air

A definitive collection of stories from the unrivaled master of twentieth-century horror

H. P. LOVECRAFT

The Call of Cthulhu and Other Weird Stories

Edited with an Introduction and Notes by S. T. Joshi

Cover art by Travis Louie

FREQUENTLY IMITATED and widely influential, Howard Philips Lovecraft reinvented the horror genre in the 1920s, discarding ghosts and witches and instead envisioning mankind as a tiny outpost of dwindling sanity in a chaotic and malevolent universe. S. T. Joshi, Lovecraft's preeminent interpreter, presents a selection of the master's fiction, from the early tales of nightmares and madness such as "The Outsider" to the overpowering cosmic terror of "The Call of Cthulhu." More than just a collection of terrifying tales, this volume reveals the development of Lovecraft's mesmerizing narrative style and establishes him as a canonical—and visionary—American writer.

ARTHUR MACHEN

The White People and Other Weird Stories

Edited with an Introduction and Notes by S. T. Joshi

Foreword by Guillermo del Toro

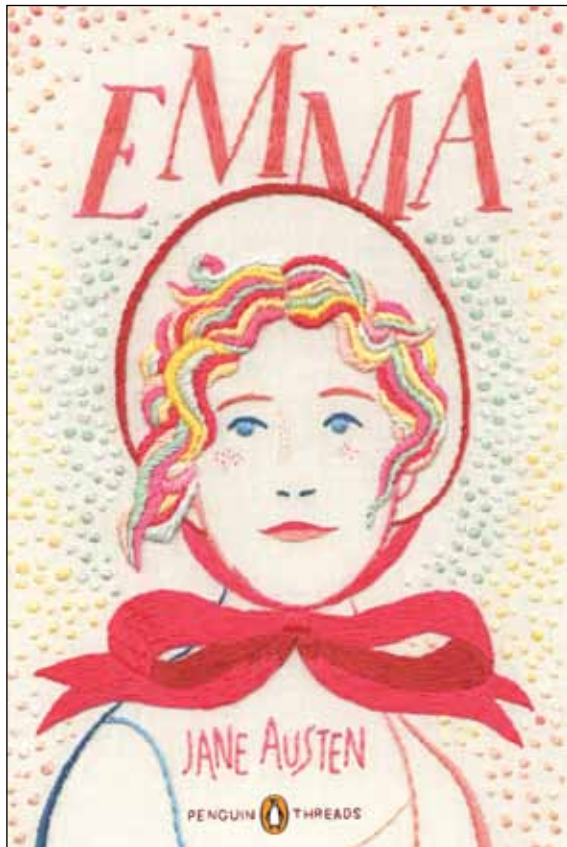

ACTOR, JOURNALIST, devotee of Celtic Christianity and the Holy Grail legend, Welshman Arthur Machen is considered one of the fathers of weird fiction, a master of mayhem whose work has drawn comparisons to H. P. Lovecraft and Edgar Allan Poe. Readers will find the perfect introduction to his style in this new collection. With the title story, an exercise in the bizarre that leaves the reader disoriented virtually from the first page, Machen turns even fundamental truths upside down. “There have been those who have sounded the very depths of sin,” explains the character Ambrose, “who all their lives have never done an ‘ill deed.’”

ARTHUR MACHEN (Arthur Llewelyn Jones, 1863–1947) was born and raised in Wales. He moved to London in 1881 and worked as a journalist, children’s tutor, and publisher’s clerk before finding literary success in 1894 with the story “The Great God Pan.”

GUILLERMO DEL TORO is a film director, producer, screenwriter, novelist, and designer. He is best known as the director of Pan’s Labyrinth and the Hellboy franchise.

JAMES WELCH

Fools Crow

Introduction by Thomas McGuane

IN THE TWO MEDICINE Territory of Montana, the Lone Eaters, a small band of Blackfoot Indians, are living their immemorial life. The men hunt and mount the occasional horse-taking raid or war party against the enemy Crow. The women tan the hides, sew the beadwork, and raise the children. But the year is 1870, and the whites are moving into their land. Fools Crow, a young warrior and medicine man, has seen the future and knows that the newcomers will punish resistance with swift retribution.

First published to broad acclaim in 1986, Fools Crow is James Welch’s stunningly evocative portrait of his people’s bygone way of life.

CICERO WAS THE MOST BRILLIANT orator in Classical history, with the ability to sway the opinions of the mob and the most powerful men in Rome. This new selection of speeches illustrates Cicero's fierce loyalty to the Roman Republic, giving an overview of his oratory—from early victories in the law courts to the height of his political career in the Senate. It features the Philippics—considered Cicero's finest achievement—a directive against his rival, Mark Antony, that eventually led to Cicero's death.

- New translation
- The first in a new three-volume series of Cicero's work
- With an introduction, glossary, notes, and an introduction to each speech

CICERO (106–43 BC) was an orator and statesman and the leading barrister in the Roman Empire. SIOBHÁN MCEL DUFF is an assistant professor of Latin and literature at the University of British Columbia.

Vivid new translations of Seneca's tragic masterpieces

SENECA

Phaedra and Other Plays

Translated with an Introduction and Notes by R. Scott Smith

LIVING IN ROME UNDER CALIGULA and later serving as a tutor to Nero, Seneca witnessed extremes of human behavior. His shocking and bloodthirsty plays not only reflect a brutal period of history, but also show how guilt, sorrow, anger, and desire lead individuals to violence. The plays in this volume—Hercules Insane, Trojan Women, Phaedra, Oedipus, Thyestes, and Octavia—present both the consequences of reckless human behavior and the cruelties of fate.

- New translation
- Includes Hercules Insane, not available in the previous Penguin Classics edition of Seneca's tragedies
- With a glossary, suggestions for further reading, and a new introduction

SENECA (4 BC–65 AD) is widely considered one of the greatest Classical dramatists.

R. SCOTT SMITH is an associate professor of classics at the University of New Hampshire.

Just So Stories

Edited with an Introduction by Judith Plotz

Series Editor: Jan Montefiore

THE CAMEL GETS HIS HUMP, the Whale his Throat, and the Leopard his Spots in these bewitching stories that conjure up distant lands, the beautiful gardens of splendid palaces, and the jungle and its creatures. Inspired by Rudyard Kipling's delight in human eccentricities and the animal world, and based on bedtime stories he told to his daughter, these strikingly imaginative fables explore the myths of creation, the nature of beasts, and the origins of language and writing. They are linked by poems and scattered with Kipling's illustrations, which contain hidden jokes, symbols, and puzzles.

- Among Kipling's best-loved works, Just So Stories has been continually in print since 1902
- Includes two additional tales, "The Tabu Tale" and "Ham and Porcupine," not published in previous editions

RUDYARD KIPLING (1865–1936) was the author of such classics as The Jungle Book and The Man Who Would Be King. He was the first English writer to be awarded the Nobel Prize.

JAN MONTEFIORE is a professor of twentieth-century English literature at the University of Kent.

JUDITH PLOTZ teaches at George Washington University.

Kim

Edited with an Introduction by Harish Trivedi

RUDYARD KIPLING'S EPIC RENDITION of the imperial experience in India is also his greatest long work. Born in India and growing into early manhood, Kim wants to play the "great game" of imperialism. He is also spiritually bound to the lama, an old ascetic priest. As the two men become fired by a quest that takes them across the country, Kim tries to reconcile these opposing impulses. A celebration of their friendship in an often hostile environment, Kim captures at once the opulence of India's exotic landscape and the uneasy presence of the British Raj.

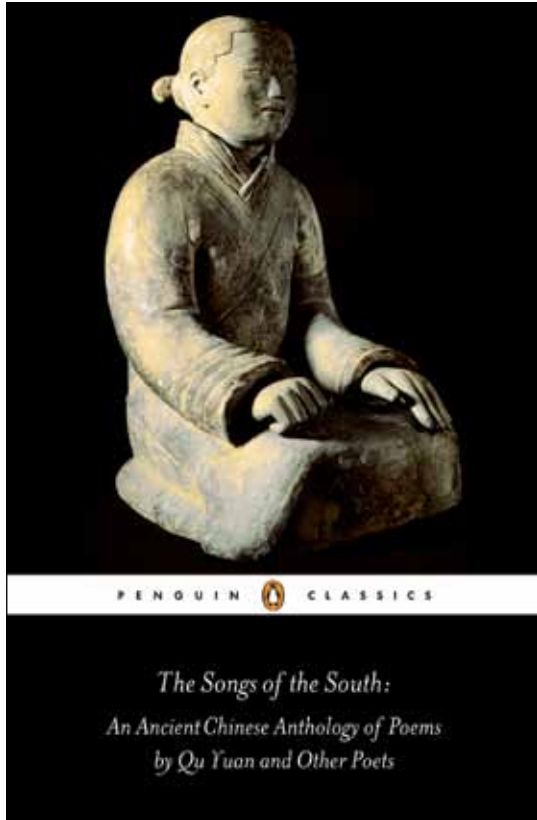

- Includes notes, a chronology, suggestions for further reading, and a general preface by series editor Jan Montefiore
- Also includes Edward Said's famous introduction from the previous Penguin Classics edition as an appendix

HARISH TRIVEDI is a professor of English at the University of Delhi, India.

QU YUAN AND OTHER POETS

The Songs of the South

An Ancient Chinese Anthology of Poems by Qu Yuan and Other Poets

Translated with an Introduction and Notes by David Hawkes

DATING FROM the second century AD, this anthology is the second-oldest collection of Chinese poems in existence. The poems, originating from the state of Chu and rooted in Shamanism, are grouped under seventeen titles and contain all that we know of Chinese poetry's ancient beginnings. The earliest poems were composed in the fourth century BC, and almost half of them are traditionally ascribed to Qu Yuan. In his introduction to this edition, David Hawkes provides a fascinating discussion of the history of these poems and their context, styles, and themes.

QU YUAN (c. 340 BC–278 BC) was a scholar and a government minister. He is regarded as the first Chinese poet to have his name attributed to his work and his death is commemorated with the famous Duanwu (Dragon Boat) Festival.

DAVID HAWKES (1923–2009) was a professor of Chinese at Oxford from 1959 to 1971. From 1973 to 1983, he was a research fellow of All Souls College, Oxford, and subsequently became an emeritus fellow.

JANE AUSTEN

The Complete Jane Austen

ISBN 978-0-14-303950-1 $25.00

- A Penguin Classics Deluxe Edition with french flaps and luxurious packaging
- Features the definitive Penguin Classics texts recommended by the Jane Austen Society
- Introduction by bestselling author of The Jane Austen Book Club, Karen Joy Fowler

Coming from Penguin Press in May 2011—A Jane Austen Education

Jane Austen scholar and book critic William Deresiewicz provides a novel-by-novel account of the remarkable life lessons Austen has to teach us all. With humor and candor, Deresiewicz employs his own experiences—from his days as an immature student to a happily married man—to demonstrate the enduring power of Austen's body of work.

GREG MORTENSON

Stones into Schools

Young Readers Edition

Adapted by Sarah Thomson

Introduction by Sandra Day O'Connor

Foreword by Angelina Jolie

BASED ON the New York Times bestseller, this adaptation of Stones into Schools tells the story of a remarkable humanitarian campaign to build schools, empower communities, and educate girls and boys. Picking up where Three Cups of Tea left off, Stones into Schools tells the story of Greg Mortenson's work with the Central Asia Institute building schools and relationships in the secluded northeast corner of Afghanistan. This adaptation includes a foreword by Angelina Jolie, an introduction by former Supreme Court justice Sandra Day O'Connor, and many new never-before-seen color photos, as well as a glossary, and a new afterword by Khyber Mortenson, Greg Mortenson's young son.

GREG MORTENSON AND SUSAN L. ROTH

Listen to the Children

The Story of Dr. Greg and Stones into Schools

GREG MORTENSON has devoted his life to building schools in remote regions of Pakistan and Afghanistan. But after a horrific earthquake in Pakistan, many of the students stopped coming to school. Listen to the Children tells the story of how three kids—one in Pakistan and two in America—spoke up and helped Dr. Greg bring those schools back to life by adding desks and playgrounds. Lyrically told in the voice of a Pakistani girl, this heartrending story reminds us that many pieces go into making a school—and that children can make a difference by speaking up.

Praise for Listen to the Wind:

“True to the spirit of Mortenson’s experience and mission. The minimal text is splendidly paired with Susan L. Roth’s textural, earth-toned collages.” —The New York Times

“Colorful fabric, cut-paper, and even computer-chip collages portray the dramatic landscape and incredible undertaking.”
—Booklist, starred review

“This truly exceptional and moving title should not be missed.”
—School Library Journal, starred review

SUSAN L. ROTH is the author and/or illustrator of forty books for children. She lives in Queens, NY.
