Flora S. Bowley's paintings on canvas and smaller works on bamboo are easily recognized and admired by galleries and art lovers across the U.S. She lives and works full-time as a painter in Portland, Oregon, where she is inspired by magical forests, abundant gardens and a vibrant community of fellow artists. Each winter, she leaves the Northwest rain behind to find inspiration in colorful tropical locations. She is excited to blend her passion for art with her love of yoga and people into her brand new workshops, "Bloom True: Intuitive Painting with Soul!"

Quarry Books

Adopt a spontaneous, bold, and fearless approach to painting as a process of discovery—one that results in lush and colorful finished works that will beg to be displayed. This inspiring and encouraging book for both novice and experienced painters teaches how to create colorful, exciting, expressive paintings through a variety of techniques, combining basic, practical painting principles with innovative personal self-expression. Flora S. Bowley's fun and forgiving approach to painting is based on the notion that "You don't begin with a preconceived painting in mind; you allow the painting to unfold." Illustrating how to work in layers, Flora gives you the freedom to cover up, re-start, wipe away, and change courses many times along the way. Unexpected and unique compositions, color combinations, and subject matter appear as you allow your paintings to emerge in an organic, unplanned way while working from a place of curiosity and letting go of fear.

Creative, unique mixed-media paintings of adorable girls with expert, entertaining guidance from the wildly popular artist, Suzi Blu.

- Artist has a huge social-media following through her online workshops and Youtube videos (over 1.6 million views).
- Her artwork is lovely and widely appealing—having characteristics of fantasy, retro-60s imagery, anime, folk art, and fashion illustration.
- Drawing and painting girls is a fun and popular subject.

Known for her quirky videos and down to earth style, Suzi Blu is a leader in teaching art to women all over the world through her online school Les Petit Academy. She lives in a gypsy cottage in San Diego, California with her best pet friends Gigi Rainbow Sparkle and Finnegan Glitter Sunshine Magic. She encourages everyone to be an artist.

Mixed-Media Girls with Suzi Blu takes you step-by-step through the process of how to draw folk art and stylized girls' faces. With inspiration from Suzi's popular online workshops and videos, this inspiring book teaches you to create simple, balanced features and add shading with colored pencils and paint. From there, you'll discover how to draw the rest of the figure and put it into a complicated, textured, mixed media/waxed background. After learning to design costumes and personalities for your girls and adapt them to fit your own personal style, you'll create vivid, exciting, backgrounds by layering paint, collaging with fabric, carving beeswax, distressing wood, and building up texture with mediums and pastes. Extensive examples and close ups of work will inspire you to take your art to the next level.

A refreshing, colorful, and inspired book of art experiences for creative families, friends, or community and school groups.

- Experienced author with a popular blog, and exciting art gallery, and a large online following.
- Established series offering a year's worth of inspirational art activities.
- High-end, colorful samples of amazing art will present a compelling visual package.

Susan Schwake has been an instructor in her own art school for 18 years, where she created her own curriculum. The school now employs three teachers who also use her lesson plans. She has been a working artist ever since 1979 and full time since 1988. Her desire to teach art on her own terms began in 1990 when she opened a small private art school for children and adults. Since that time her vision has grown into artstreamstudios, which includes a contemporary gallery, an adjunct teaching staff of three and classes, workshops and retreats most every day of the year. Artstream houses its own full media design firm and has featured a number of high-profile artists including Lisa Congdon, Julia Rothman, Sarah Ahearn Bellemare, Heather Smith Jones, Lisa Occhipint, and many others.

A refreshing source of ideas for creating fine art with children, Art Lab for Kids encourages the artist's own voice, marks, and style. This fun and creative book features 52 fine art projects set into weekly lessons, beginning with drawing, moving through painting and printmaking, and then building to paper collage and mixed media. The labs can be used as singular projects or to build up to a year of hands-on fine art experiences. The lessons in this book are open-ended to be explored over and over—with different results each time! Colorful photos illustrate how different people using the same lesson will yield different results, exemplifying the way the lesson brings out each artist's personal style. Art Lab for Kids is the perfect book for creative families, friends, and community groups and works as lesson plans for both experienced and new art teachers. Children of all ages and experience levels can be guided by adults and will enjoy these engaging exercises.

The Textile Artist's Studio Handbook challenges you to stretch your imagination, experiment with new styles, and explore luscious, colorful fibers at home.

→ The Textile Artist's Studio Handbook gives you what you need to set up a home studio (space considerations, how to invest in the right tools, where to find the best materials) and fully illustrated step-by-step instruction for several textile techniques—more than the competition.

→ The authors helm a vibrant, dynamic, popular textile studio education space in the heart of Brooklyn, the Textile Arts Center. They host classes, workshops, exhibits, and events—prime for generating traffic and publicity, and driving sales.

→ Perennial craft, dated bookshelf: textile art is an ancient craft, yet there are few contemporary, updated illustrated guides. Our volume fills this niche beautifully.

Explore the world of textile arts, one thread at a time! The Textile Artist's Studio Handbook is the only book you need for expanding your repertoire of textile crafting and design techniques. This is the go-to guide for the foundations of design and fabrication, glossary of materials, and classic techniques that include weaving, dyeing, painting, and more! Plus, where else can you get behind-the-scenes access to setting up the best home textile studio for you? Inside, you'll find exploration of basic materials (including fibers, dyes, paints, and other media); visual tutorials for spinning, felting, crochet, weaving, sewing, and quilting; primers for surface decoration techniques such as dyeing, painting, stitching, and screen printing; and patterns and project instructions.

Visnja Popovic is the co-founder and education director of the Textile Arts Center in Brooklyn, NY.

Owyn Ruck is the co-founder and general manager of the Textile Arts Center.

An exciting project book and creativity guide for all kinds of stitchers and DIYers who want to play with thread, stitching, and illustration.

- ➔ Fun and creative stitching projects with a twist.
- ➔ Attractive format and eye-catching visuals.
- ➔ High-caliber author and contributors with popular blogs followings will attract interest.

Lisa Solomon received her BA in Art Practice from UC Berkeley in 1995 and her MFA from Mills College in 2003. She regularly teaches art at various colleges in the Bay Area. Solomon's mixed media works revolve thematically around domesticity, craft, and masculine and feminine triggers. She is drawn to found objects altering them conceptually so that their meanings and original uses or intents are re-purposed. Ms. Solomon's work has been featured in many books, and her drawings and installations have been featured in numerous national and international venues.

Let Them Eat Pie empowers you with illustrated techniques —both how-to and how-not-to— for making a world of pies.

- Pie is a classic, timeless dessert with a million modern applications; rumor has it pie is poised to be the “next” cupcake.
- There are many pie recipe books but surprisingly few pie-making technique books.
- The author’s unique voice and hard-working, homegrown experience offer a counterpoint to super-glossy, prim and proper baking personalities.

Millicent Souris is a New York–based, self-taught, homegrown, DIY-driven pie-making mistress. She’s made thousands of pies in the past 10 years (you may have tasted some of them in places as far-flung as Chicago and Brooklyn). She teaches pie-making workshops at the Brooklyn Kitchen, and she can spot a limp crust from 100 paces.

You want to make pie, but are petrified of the crust. “How can I get it to roll out and stretch over mounds of fruit? Will it tear, flake, burn, break, and disintegrate beneath my fingers? What about the filling: how do I get my custards to set, my blueberries to jell, and my meringues lofty and perfectly browned?” Consider your questions answered and your fears alleviated. Millicent Souris, pie mistress and kitchen muse, teaches you the skills and techniques you need to master the art of making pie —skillfully, flawlessly, and deliciously. Let Them Eat Pie includes detailed information on everything from kitchen know-how to using the best ingredients. You’ll find illustrated preparation techniques for fruit fillings, custards, mousses, creams, meringues, and more, along with crust recipes and techniques including chilling, rolling, and shaping.

A colorful, delicious introduction to home-brewing craft beer from Sam Calagione—now with 15 new recipes!

- Fuel: The book feeds a fun, creative, year-round hobby with accessible instructions and unique recipes.
- New generation of “extreme” recipes: the additional content gives the home brewer fresh ideas for playing with ingredients, with delicious results.
- World perspective, simplified: Sam’s relentless pursuit of new craft beer frontiers informs the content of this book without bogging it down with textbook detail.

Sam Calagione is the founder and owner of Dogfish Head Craft Brewery in Milton, DE and Dogfish Head Brewery and Eats in Rehoboth Beach, DE. His innovative style has earned him a reputation as one of America’s most adventurous entrepreneurs and brewers. He lives in Lewes, DE.

Extreme Brewing is a recipe-driven resource for aspiring home brewers who want to recreate specialty beers at home, but don't have the time to learn the science and lore behind home brewing. All recipes are malt syrup based (the simplest brewing method) with variations for partial grain brewing. While recipes are included for classic beer styles—ales and lagers—Extreme Brewing has a unique emphasis on hybrid styles that use fruit, vegetables, herbs and spices to create unique flavor combinations. Once their brew is complete, readers can turn to a special section on presentation, including corking, bottle selection and labeling as well as detailed information on food pairings and recipes for beer infused dishes. This “deluxe” edition features 15 new brewing recipes from Dogfish Head and around the world (Italy, Brazil, New Zealand, Australia, UK, and Finland), as well as a new introduction from Randy Mosher.

Homegrown Cocktails shows you how to bring fresh fruits, vegetables, herbs, and more from your garden or the farmers' market to your kitchen, one delicious cocktail at a time.

- This style of beverage—fresh ingredients served at the bar—is trending up. Huffington Post cites “herbal infusions” and “better bitters” as two of the top 5 cocktail trends for 2011.
- The direct competitors are more than ten years old (and charmingly folksy). Given current interest in the subject (along with other culinary DIY topics), our updated presentation will turn heads and slake audience's thirst.

Katie Loeb is a trained sommelier, creator of craft cocktails, and author of numerous articles and recipes for Bon Appetit, Imbibe, Food & Wine, the Los Angeles Times, Philadelphia Magazine, Main Line Magazine, and Inside Magazine. She has consulted for restaurant groups, liquor brands, and cocktail ingredient companies and has helped design the cocktail programs for several nationally renowned restaurants. She lives in Philadelphia.

Homegrown Cocktails—no bootlegging required! Ever tasted a Thai basil martini, rhubarb margarita, or preserved lemon vodka tonic and wondered, “How’d they do that?” Homegrown Cocktails is your complete guide to making infused liquors, cordials, bitters, and cocktails from fresh, delicious ingredients at home. Learn how to combine fresh produce and other botanicals with the liquor you have at home, and you’ll never need to beg the bartender for the recipe again. Inside, you’ll find 50 unique cocktail recipes from an expert “garden-to-bar” mixologist and step-by-step instructions and photos for all stages of the distilling and infusion process—never miss a detail or a finishing touch! Learn how to make the most of your ingredients: enhancing flavor, color, and presentation!

Foraging for edible wild plants: the ultimate way to eat locally and enjoy nature's bounty.

- Gary Lincoff is a go-to wild edibles guru—he has appeared on Martha Stewart's TV show about mushroom foraging. His edible wild plant kingdom knowledge is rivaled only by his mycophilia.
- Our book teaches you how to gather and prepare edible wild plants from a global, non-region-specific perspective — going beyond the regional field guides.
- Accessible and authoritative: you will not only learn how to identify plants correctly, but you will learn how to know you are identifying them correctly.

Gary Lincoff is the author of The Complete Mushroom Hunter and the author, co-author, or editor of several books and articles on mushrooms, including The Audubon Society Field Guide to North American Mushrooms. He teaches courses on mushroom and plant identification and use at the New York Botanical Garden and has led wild mushroom and edible wild plant study trips and forays to 30 countries. Lincoff chaired the Telluride Mushroom Festival for 25 years (1980–2004), and still participates as its principal speaker. He lives in New York City.

Discover the edible riches your backyard, local parks, woods, and even roadside! In The Joy of Foraging, Gary Lincoff shows you how to find fiddlehead ferns, rose hips, beach plums, bee balm, and more, whether you are foraging in the urban jungle or the wild, wild woods. You will also learn about fellow foragers—experts, folk healers, hobbyists, or novices like you—who collect wild things and are learning new things to do with them every day. Wherever you live—any season, any climate—you'll find essential tips on where to look for native plants, and how to know without a doubt the difference between edibles and toxic look-alikes. There are even ideas and recipes for preparing and preserving the wild harvest year-round. Let Gary take you on the ultimate tour of our edible wild kingdom!

The only illustrated handbook for the fermented food revolution you need!

- Making fermented foods —beyond the mainstream beer, wine, and cheese — is a classic kitchen skill set for the current crop of food enthusiasts.
- There are no attractive, completely illustrated guides to fermentation for a hungry market.
- Our book is comprehensive and authoritative without losing a bit of accessibility —no political grandstanding or lifestyle manifestos.

Alex Lewin is a Massachusetts-based health strategist who specializes in fermented foods. He has studied cooking at the Professional Chef's Program at the Cambridge School of Culinary Arts and nutrition at the Institute for Integrative Nutrition. He teaches classes, leads workshops, organizes festivals, and creates videos around food fermenting, especially vegetable fermenting. He has been featured for this work in publications including Harvard Magazine, Edible Boston, Stuff Magazine, and on public radio.
