Could there be such a thing as a best frenemy?

Ida May finally fits in at school after becoming best friends with Stacey Merriweather, who is universally liked by their classmates. But then Ida's frenemy, bossy Jenna Drews, brings in a game of truth or dare, and all the girls are suddenly daring one another to misbehave. When Ida finds herself in the principal's office, she's scared into ratting out her friends and gets freezed out of the group. The only way she can fix things is to take a triple-dog dare: letting one of the girls pierce her ears. Will her BFF come to her rescue, or is this the perfect job for a frenemy?

Packed with fourth-grade jealousies, problems, misbehavior, and consequences, this third book about Ida May stands on its own.

"Hits all the right emotional notes . . . [with a] wry, sweet, proud protagonist . . . just right for the age group."

This tale of summertime bravery is a sunny addition to the New York Times bestselling Ladybug Girl books!

Lulu loves the beach. Well, she's never been there before, but she knows she will love it. And then she sees the ocean and it is big and loud and rough. That's okay—Lulu wanted to build sand castles and fly her kite with Bingo anyway. But while they are building their sand castle, the sneaky ocean comes in and tries to steal Lulu's favorite pail. This is a job for Ladybug Girl!

Lulu conquers her fear of the ocean when she remembers that Ladybug Girl can do anything, in this gorgeously illustrated companion to the popular series.

David Soman and Jacky Davis live in Rosendale, New York. They are a husband-and-wife team, and the Ladybug Girl books are inspired by their daughter and son.

She never knew she loved horses until she needed them the most Hannah Gale starts volunteering at a horse stable because she needs a place to escape. Her father has returned from the Iraq war as an amputee with posttraumatic stress disorder, and his nightmares rock the household. At the stable, Hannah comes to love Jack, Super Dee, and Indy; helps bring a rescued mare back from the brink; and witnesses the birth of the filly who steals her heart. Hannah learns more than she ever imagined about horse training, abuse, and rescues, as well as her own capacity for hope. Physical therapy with horses could be the answer to her father's prayers, if only she can get him to try.

"There's nothing so good for the inside of a man as the outside of a horse."

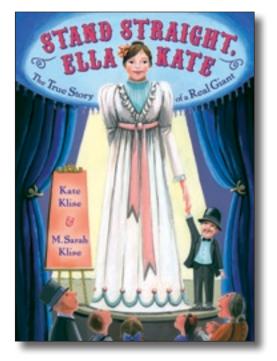

-Old English proverb

A true tall tale about a girl who kept growing

Ella Kate Ewing was born in 1872. She started out small, but she just kept on growing. Soon she was too tall for her desk at school, too tall for her bed at home, too tall to fit anywhere. Ella Kate was a real-life giant, but she refused to hide herself away. Instead, she used her unusual height to achieve her equally large dreams.

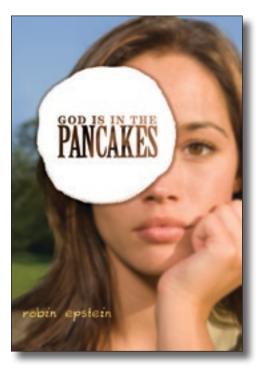

The masterful Klise sisters deliver a touching and inspiring true story about a strong-minded girl who finally embraced her differences. It's the perfect book for every child who has ever felt like an outsider.

Kate Klise and M. Sarah Klise (www.kateandsarahklise.com) are sisters and co-creators of many award-winning books for children. Kate lives in Norwood, Missouri, and Sarah lives in Berkeley, California.

What would you do if a friend asked you to help him die?

Fifteen-year-old Grace Manning is a candy striper in a nursing home, and Mr. Sands is the one patient who makes the job bearable. He keeps up with her sarcasm, teaches her to play poker . . . and one day cheerfully asks her to help him die. At first Grace says no way, but as Mr. Sands's disease progresses, she's not so sure. Grace tries to avoid the wrenching decision by praying for a miracle, stuffing herself with pancakes, and running away from all feelings, including the new ones she has for her best friend Eric. But Mr. Sands is getting worse, and she can't avoid him forever.

Robin Epstein has delivered an incredibly engaging, thought-provoking debut YA novel, with all the snappy dialogue and attitude of the movie Juno.

Robin Epstein is a former sitcom writer who lives in Brooklyn, New York.

The first day of school is truly eventful for this peppy, takecharge little girl

Annie Grace wears her "Adventure Annie" cape to her first day of kindergarten, and proceeds to barrel through the day, searching for adventure in every moment. Her interpretation of the class's Gold Star Rules isn't exactly what her teacher, Mr. Todd, had in mind. But somehow Annie does manage to save the day when two of her classmates get lost on their way to retrieve the afternoon snack. Spirited and funny, this is an introduction to kindergarten that will please kids and teachers alike.

Toni Buzzeo (www.tonibuzzeo.com), a former elementary school librarian, lives in Buxton, Maine.

Now everyone's favorite squid is just the right size for babies and toddlers

Kevin Sherry's unabashed squid may be the biggest thing in this catalog, but he's not too big for even the littlest kids to love. As the hubristic squid goes about bragging, babies and toddlers will get an eyeful of undersea life—from shrimp and jellyfish to turtles and more. With its snappy text and bright, bold artwork, this winning modern classic is guaranteed to have even the youngest of readers grabbing at pages and laughing along.

A charming, younger spin-off to the popular YA trilogy Sorcery & Cecelia by a beloved fantasy author

Young Frederick is plucked from an orphanage to be a footboy for a wizard named Lord Schofield in Victorian England. Is his uncanny ability to tie perfect knots and render boots spotless a sign of his own magical talent, or the work of Billy Bly, the brownie who has been secretly watching over him since he was little? No matter, for the wizard has banished all magical creatures from his holdings. But Billy Bly isn't going anywhere, and when he discovers a curse upon the manor house, it's up to Frederick and Billy Bly to keep the lord's new baby safe and rid the Schofield family of the curse forever.

"Her characters are clever, courageous, and charming, even in the midst of harrowing adventure."

Martine's destiny is thrillingly revealed in this final companion to The White Giraffe

Martine and her grandmother discover that they might lose Sawubona, their African game reserve, to the sinister Reuben James. But a prophecy from Grace rouses Martine and her best friend, Ben, into action. To find the truth and save the reserve, Martine and Ben must stow away in an airplane, which strands them in the desert, thwart Mr. James's creepy henchman, and rescue a herd of very special elephants from the dangerous Moon Valley.

The adventure also leads the kids to answers about Martine's destiny. Jemmy, the white giraffe, and Khan, the last leopard, are alongside Martine and Ben as the Secret Valley reveals its mysteries in this satisfying conclusion to the series that began with the #1 Children's BookSense Pick, The White Giraffe.

Lauren St. John (www.laurenstjohn.com) says, "The best part about writing the White Giraffe series has been living with characters whose mission is not only to heal and save animals, but to make their lives better." Lauren grew up on a game preserve in Zimbabwe, which was the inspiration for this series.

A bouncy beat, a fast-paced chase, and a frog and a chicken in love!

Once upon a time, once and never again, a frog fell in love with a chicken, and so he bought her a golden ring. But when he drops that ring? Well, that's when the real fun starts. From the swan in sports gear to a skateboarding rabbit, from a tricycling goat to a dachshund on a motorcycle, the antics get faster and funnier with each new page turn. The frog finally does get the ring back, teamwork prevails, and the story ends with a kiss (just not the one you might expect!).

Sean Taylor's boppy rhythms and a ringing refrain will have kids anticipating lines and shouting along. Of course, a great read-aloud is made even better by great illustrations, and award-winner Jill Barton delivers with comically attired animals and a variety of kid-appealing vehicles. A perfect "every kid" book in the classic mold.

For any kid who's ever wanted a new name, here's one charmer of a picture book

Sidney, a rather rotund pig, loves to write rhyming poems for his friends' birthdays. On one such occasion, he realizes his own name doesn't rhyme with anything except . . . well, kidney. This just will not do. Sidney resolves to change his name to Joe, an extremely rhyme-able name. But being "Joe" is hard to remember. His friends aren't that keen on it. And when Sidney's mom finds out, she's crushed. After all, Sidney was named after his greatgreat-great-grandfather, the inventor of the mop! What's a pig with a non-rhyming name to do?

Jane Sutton's text is full of laughs, and wonderfully complemented by Renata Gallio's charming characters, quirky details, and rolling perspectives. Kids will love Sidney's solution and identify with his name-changing plight.

A profound and funny tale of self-discovery and the power of friendship

For months, Cass has heard her best friend, Julia, whisper about a secret project. When Julia dies in a car accident, her drama friends decide to bring the project—a musical called Totally Sweet Ninja Death Squad—to fruition. But Cass isn't a drama person. She can't take a summer of painting sets, and she won't spend long hours with Heather, the girl who made her miserable all through middle school and has somehow landed the leading role. So Cass takes off. In alternating chapters, she spends the first part of summer on a cross-country bike trip and the rest swallowing her pride, making props, and—of all things—falling for Heather.

This is a story of the breadth of love. Of the depth of friendship. And of the most hilarious musical one quiet suburb has ever seen.

Emily Horner (www.emilyhorner.com) is originally from Montreal, Quebec. A fan of Japanese pop culture—including ninjas, of course—she is currently a librarian in Brooklyn, New York.

Debut Novel

A Peek into the Mind of Jacqueline West, Author of The Books of Elsewhere

Q: What was the spark of inspiration for THE BOOKS OF ELSEWHERE?

A: The first teeny spark was this huge, crumbling Victorian mansion in the town where I grew up. Its yard was always jumbled with weird, whirling metal contraptions. I knew I wanted to write about an intelligent but odd family living in an old house with a mysterious past.

Q: The spectacles Olive finds in the house allow her to travel inside paintings. If you got your hands on those spectacles, or otherwise—would you travel into?

OLSOWHORD

EVERY HOUSE

HAS ITS SECRETS

BE CAREFUL

what paintings—famous or otherwise—would you travel into?

A: Ooh . . . a tough choice! I would probably have to go with Salvador Dali's paintings first, because they would be such amazing worlds to explore. I imagine that everything would feel rubbery and slick, sort of like Silly Putty or fried eggs. Then again, I might pick something lush and gorgeous like Maxfield Parrish—I'd love to bounce around on some mountainous pink clouds, wearing a gravity-defying gauzy dress.

Q: Are the story's main characters—Olive, Morton, the three cats—based on people (or pets!) you know?

A: Horatio, Harvey, and Leopold are all real cats, and those are their real names. Of course, the real-world versions talk less. Olive and Morton, on the other hand, are completely made up. I think they're the sort of kids I would have wanted to know back when I was their age. The fact that I'm a big sister to two younger brothers probably shows up in Olive and Morton's relationship now and then, too ...

Q: What happens next? (Without giving too much away!)

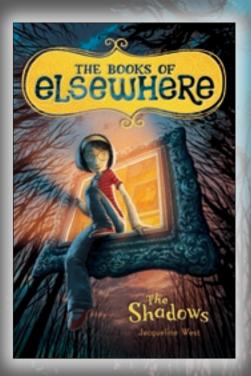

A: The house itself has more big secrets waiting to be revealed, including an object that once belonged to the McMartins and that slowly takes over Olive's life. Also, Olive makes a friend who isn't covered with fur or made of paint, and someone else—someone Olive thought she knew pretty well—turns out to have been fooling everyone all along.

Roald Dahl meets Neil Gaiman in this creepy but whimsical tale from a new standout voice

Old Ms. McMartin is definitely dead. Now her crumbling Victorian mansion lies vacant. When eleven-year-old Olive and her dippy mathematician parents move in, she knows there's something odd about the place—not least the walls covered in strange antique paintings. But when Olive finds a pair of old spectacles in a dusty drawer, she discovers the most peculiar thing yet: She can travel inside these paintings to a world that's strangely quiet . . . and eerily like her own Yet Elsewhere harbors dark secrets—and Morton, an undersized boy with an outsize temper.

As she and Morton form an uneasy alliance, Olive finds herself ensnared in a plan darker and more dangerous than she could have imagined, confronting a power that wants to be rid of her by any means necessary. It's up to Olive to save the house from the dark shadows, before the lights go out for good.

Jacqueline West weaves a tale at turns haunting, moving, and darkly funny, full of characters you won't soon forget.

A two-time Pushcart nominee for poetry, Jacqueline West lives in Chilton, Wisconsin. This is her first novel.

In a new school, can Moxie finally live up to her name?

Moxie Roosevelt Kipper has endured thirteen years of being an ordinary girl with an unordinary name. Now that she's entered boarding school, the time is ripe to reinvent herself. She'll become unusual, outlandish, unexpected, sassy—someone worthy of a name like "Moxie." But who exactly? From Mysterious Earth Goddess to Hale and Hearty Sports Enthusiast; from Detached, Unique, Coolly Knowing Individual to Assertive Revolutionary Activist, Moxie tries them all, while keeping her true talent for piano-playing a secret. But at boarding school, Moxie isn't the only one who isn't what she claims to be.

I see it like one of those reality shows where a team rushes in and rips a bunch of stuff out of your house and completely redesigns it with new stuff in a Unified Look. Except on my reality show, instead of my house it would be me that got the makeover inside and out. (From The Reinvention of Moxie Roosevelt)

A new life in America is a balancing act . . .

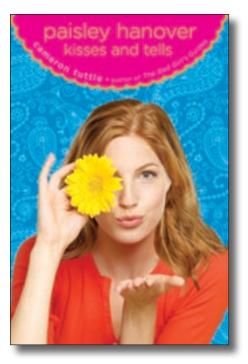

Ten-year-old Babo and the other "leftover kids" live on an abandoned circus camp in a war-torn country. Babo believes her circus-star parents will come back for her any day now, so she is not one bit happy when an American couple adopts her. She hates her new name (Betti) and is confused by everything in America. She's determined to run away. But as Betti slowly begins to trust her new family and even makes a friend, she decides maybe she can stay just one more day. And then maybe another . . .

Betti on the High Wire is both heartbreaking and hilarious—and completely unforgettable. This brave little storyteller of a girl will wiggle her way straight into your heart.

The epic fourth novel in the Vampire Academy series—now in paperback!

The recent Strigoi attack at St. Vladimir's Academy was the deadliest ever in the school's history, claiming the lives of Moroi students, teachers, and guardians alike. Even worse, the Strigoi took some of their victims with them . . . including Dimitri.

He'd rather die than be one of them, and now Rose must abandon her best friend, Lissa—the one she has sworn to protect no matter what—and keep the promise Dimitri begged her to make long ago. But with everything at stake, how can she possibly destroy the person she loves most?

When your whole life is about saving others, who will save you?

After a long and heartbreaking journey to Dimitri's birthplace in Siberia, Rose Hathaway has finally returned to St. Vladimir's—and to her best friend, Lissa. It is nearly graduation, and the girls can't wait for their real lives beyond the Academy's iron gates to begin. But Rose's heart still aches for Dimitri, and she knows he's out there, somewhere.

She failed to kill him when she had the chance. And now her worst fears are about to come true. Dimitri has tasted her blood, and now he is hunting her. And this time he won't rest until Rose joins him . . . forever.

ZOMBIEKINS by Kevin Bolger illustrated by Aaron Blecha

Captain Underpants meets Bunnicula in this middle-grade zombie spoof!

Fourth-grader Stanley Nudelman is about as wimpy as they come—he's cowardly, shy, and spends most of his time hiding from the school bully, Knuckles Bruzkowski! Then Stanley stumbles upon the yard sale of his neighbor, Old Lady Imavitch, where he buys a mysterious stuffed animal. But this isn't any old toy . . . it's Zombiekins! He's a little bit teddy, a little bit bunny, and a whole lotta ZOMBIE! And he's coming this way!

Stump!—scri-i-i-itch . . . Stump!—scri-i-i-i-itch . . .

Stanley brings Zombiekins to school and unleashes the worst zombie plague in fourth grade history! Can Stanley find the courage to save the day before his teachers notice the class is full of zombies? Or will he soon join the ranks of the snuggily UNDEAD?

Kevin Bolger has taught reading and writing to children in grades two to six for about ten years and is the author of Sir Fartsalot Hunts the Booger (www.sirfartsalot.com). Zombiekins is his second novel. He lives in Ottawa, Canada.

More outrageous scandal in book two of the Beautiful Americans trilogy!

In this sexy, mysterious and romantic follow up to Beautiful Americans, snow falls over the French countryside as Alex, Olivia, and Zack search for their missing classmate, PJ. But while they have been looking for their beautiful troubled friend, they've been losing themselves along the way. When they hear news that PJ has killed herself, each is wracked with private guilt. Then Zack returns to Paris, and swears he sees PJ and her sister alive and well. Is it true? Find out in book three, Experienced!

True love prevails in the final Beautiful Americans novel!

All hell breaks loose when PJ is discovered alive by her friends after she faked her own suicide. Alex, Jay, Olivia, and Zack all vow to protect her and keep her hidden in Paris, but one by one she turns their lives into a nightmare. Despite her angelic looks, destruction follows PJ everywhere.

Then Alex uncovers a scandal that could rock the Lycée to its core—if told. But with each characters' personal journey resolved at the end of a wild year abroad, what's most important is that they got through it together.

Three sisters, three extraordinary, life-changing powers!

I hugged my sisters and they fit against my sides like two jigsaw pieces that would never fit anywhere else. I couldn't imagine ever letting them go again, like releasing them would be to surrender the best parts of myself.

Three sisters share a magical, unshakeable bond in this witty high-concept novel from the critically acclaimed author of Audrey, Wait! Around the time of their parents' divorce, sisters April, May, and June recover special powers from childhood—powers that come in handy navigating the hell that is high school. Powers that help them cope with the hardest year of their lives. But could they have a greater purpose?

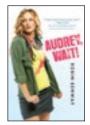

April, the oldest and a bit of a worrier, can see the future. Middle-child May can literally disappear. And baby June reads minds—everyone's but her own. When April gets a vision of disaster, the girls come together to save the day and reconcile their strained family. They realize that no matter what happens, powers or no powers, they'll always have each other.

Because there's one thing stronger than magic: sisterhood.

The perfect romantic makeover story about an every-girl whose dream comes true . . .

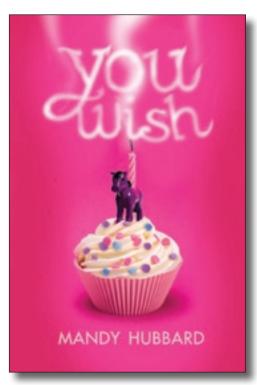

Beatrice Wilson is our lovable Cinderella, who just got dumped by her very first boyfriend and put on twenty-five pounds. But then she's discovered as a plus model. In the eyes of pop culture, Bee is Jessica Alba and then some! Now she must vanquish skinny rivals, fend off sleazy photogs, and banish jealous frenemies in her rise to superstardom. All the while, she's torn between her first love and the surprisingly sincere up-and-coming rapper she tutors in calculus. But what's better than finding your prince charming? Finally learning to love yourself!

What if all your wishes really came true?

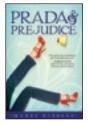

Kayla McHenry's sweet sixteen sucks! Her dad left, her grades dropped, and her BFF is dating the boy Kayla's secretly loved for years. Blowing out her candles, Kayla thinks: I wish my birthday wishes actually came true. Because they never freakin' do.

Kayla wakes the next day to a life-sized, bright pink My Little Pony outside her window. Then a year's supply of gumballs arrives. A boy named Ken with a disturbing resemblance to the doll of the same name stalks her. As the ghosts of Kayla's wishes-past appear, they take her on a wild ride . . . but they MUST STOP. Because when she was fifteen? She wished Ben Mackenzie would kiss her. And Ben is her best friend's boyfriend.

Do you long for a place you've never been?

Do you often experience THE SENSATION OF DÉJÀ VU?

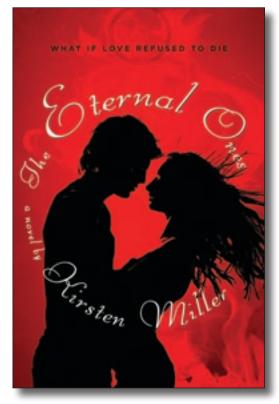

Do you possess skills or talents THAT DEFY EXPLANATION?

ARE YOU HAUNTED BY FEARS OR ANXIETIES THAT MAKE LITTLE SENSE?

DO YOU FEEL UNUSUALLY CLOSE TO CERTAIN PEOPLE IN YOUR LIFE?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, you may have experienced a previous life. Reincarnation explains many of the mysteries of human existence. Why some of us are born with remarkable gifts. Why we love the people we love. Why we fear the things we fear. We return to Earth time and time again, driven by love, vengeance, passion, or greed. And each life leaves its mark on us, even if we lose most of our memories as our souls are transferred from one living body to the next. If you believe that you may have lived before—or if you're interested in learning more about reincarnation—we urge you to contact the Ouroboros Society today.

What if love refused to die?

Haven Moore can't control her visions of a past with a boy called Ethan, and a life in New York that ended in fiery tragedy. In our present, she designs beautiful dresses for her classmates with her best friend Beau. Dressmaking keeps her sane, since she lives with her widowed and heartbroken mother in her tyrannical grandmother's house in Snope City, a tiny town in Tennessee. Then an impossible group of coincidences conspire to force her to flee to New York, to discover who she is, and who she was.

In New York, Haven meets Iain Morrow and is swept into an epic love affair that feels both deeply fated and terribly dangerous. Iain is suspected of murdering a rock star and Haven wonders, could he have murdered her in a past life? She visits the Ouroboros Society and discovers a murky world of reincarnation that stretches across millennia. Haven must discover the secrets hidden in her past lives, and loves, before all is lost and the cycle begins again.

Kirsten Miller (www.theeternalones.com) is also the author of the critically acclaimed Kiki Strike book series. She lives in Brooklyn, New York, and she suspects she may have been either Amelia Earhart or Catherine the Great in a previous existence.

An uplifting environmental success story

The buffalo, an American icon once nearly extinct, has made a comeback. This stirring picture book tells the dramatic story, following bison from the Plains Indians to the cowboys, Teddy Roosevelt to the Dust Bowl, and from the brink of extinction to the majestic herds that now roam our national parks. Paired with gorgeous paintings by landscape artist Wendell Minor, Jean Craighead George's engaging text will inspire a new generation to understand and protect nature's delicate balance.

Every girl grows up, Winnie just does it with more flair!

Winnie Perry is fourteen now, and the countdown to high school is shaping up to be as eventful as an entire year of middle school. Not only are things shaky with her boyfriend, Lars, but BFFs Dinah and Cinnamon have been acting weird, big sister Sandra is college-bound, little brother Ty has smuggled a stolen penguin home in his backpack, and new baby sister Maggie has everything turned upside down.

It's a lot for anyone to handle, and loyal Winnie is so busy worrying about everyone else that she hardly notices that she might just be struggling a little bit herself.

With humor and honesty, Lauren Myracle brings us another pitch-perfect novel featuring the characters that her legions of fans have grown up loving.

Lauren Myracle (www.laurenmyracle.com) is the bestselling and award-winning author of many novels, including the Winnie and Internet girls series. A graduate of the Vermont College MFA program in writing for children and young adults, she lives with her family in Fort Collins, Colorado.

A summer celebration that's sure to be a classroom favorite

In this fourth and final book in the series about seasons, Wendy Pfeffer turns her attention to summer, when butterflies emerge from silky cocoons and daylight hours stretch longer and longer. With lyrical prose and vibrant illustrations, The Longest Day takes us on a journey through the history and science behind the summer solstice, with a focus on summer celebrations from various cultures around the world. Teachers and students alike will treasure the varied and accessible knowledge, and activities in the back let everyone in on the festivities.

Wendy Pfeffer lives in Pennington, New Jersey, with her husband, Tom.

Linda Bleck (www.lindableck.com) has been illustrating for twenty years. She lives in Mequon, Wisconsin, with her husband and two children.

An upbeat back-to-school book with a superlative sense of fun

On the first day of school, new classmates are asked to share what they would most like to happen in the upcoming year. Some kids' hopes are familiar while others are off-the-wall. Whether it's looking good on picture day or skateboarding at school, everyone's wishes are shown in humorously exaggerated illustrations. As the first day draws to a close, there can be no doubt—this school year will definitely be the best!

Life and love stories overlap and intertwine in the telling of one transforming summer

Eighteen-year-old Anabelle's last few months in her coastal hometown are bittersweet. Instead of the quiet precollege summer she expects, Anabelle makes some surprising discoveries about herself as she navigates romantic entanglements and changing friendships. Through shifting points of view in seven interconnected stories, we glimpse the limits of how well her friends really know Anabelle . . . and how little she grasps about the way they see her.

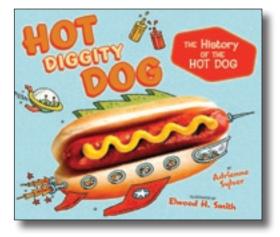

With wry observations and quirky humor, critically acclaimed novelist Hillary Frank gives voice and depth to six unique characters whose stories intertwine to form a complete picture of one shared summer.

Hillary Frank (www.HillaryFrank.com) is a writer and radio producer based in Philadelphia. Her debut novel, Better Than Running at Night, was named a Top Ten First Youth Novel by Booklist and a Best Book for Young Adults by the American Library Association.

A laugh-out-loud trip through history and heritage—starting with your dinner

If we are what we eat, Americans are hot dogs.

We ate them on the way to the moon and served them to the king of England. We name a Hot Dog– Eating Champ! Garnished with hilarious illustrations and amazing "foodie" facts, this kid-friendly, globespanning history of our favorite fast-food meal offers unique insight into America's multicultural heritage. From a hobo's franks-and-beans to astronaut food, there's more to the wiener—and what's for dinner—than you think.

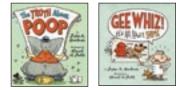

Adrienne Sylver grew up in Ohio, where she rooted for the Cleveland Indians and learned to appreciate a good stadium hot dog. A reporter, she lives in Miami with her family.

Elwood H. Smith studied art at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts and now lives with his wife in Rhinebeck, New York.

The fourth in an acclaimed series of "delightful," "luminous" concept books

On a gray and rainy day, a boy discovers a rainbow of colors in the magical world of nursery rhymes. Come along as he delights in blue with Little Boy Blue, orange in Old Mother Hubbard's cupboard, and purple with poor Humpty Dumpty. This gorgeously illustrated, whimsical nursery adventure is just right for children learning their colors.

Alison Jay's uniquely beautiful concept books continue to charm readers and win fans of all ages.

Alison Jay is the celebrated illustrator of many books for children, including her much-admired series of concept books, found "elegant and luminous" in a Booklist starred review and "sumptuous . . . a wonder to behold," in a starred review in Publishers Weekly. She lives in London, England.

"A lot like reading my own diary . . . a wonderful story about dreams and determination." —Dolly Parton

Retta Lee Jones is blessed with a beautiful voice and has big dreams of leaving her tiny Tennessee hometown. With a beaten down car, a pocketful of hard-earned waitressing money, and stars in her eyes, Retta sets out to make it big in Nashville. But the road to success isn't a smooth one in a town filled with dreamers, and Retta begins to have doubts: can she make her mark while staying true to herself?

From the breakout author of Artichoke's Heart, this bighearted novel is a must-read for anyone who has ever chased a dream (or hummed along with Taylor Swift).

Suzanne Supplee (www.SuzanneSupplee.com) lives outside of Baltimore, Maryland.

The thrilling conclusion to the trilogy praised as "compulsively readable" by School Library Journal and "uncommonly entertaining" by Kirkus Reviews

War is brewing in Mannahatta, the spirit city that coexists alongside Manhattan, as the truce between the Munsee Indians and the Gods grows increasingly fragile. Rory—who has the ability to see both worlds—is the City's last, best hope for survival. In their race to expose power-hungry Willem Kieft's nefarious plans to incite war, Rory and his friends traverse the boroughs to uncover the secrets of Mannahatta's past that could finally restore order to the city.

With the future of the godly and mortal realms in the balance, New York's notorious villains and celebrated heroes face off in a heart-stopping battle of epic proportions.

The penultimate chapter in the thrilling vampire series

Things have taken a darker turn for the half-human teenager with an appetite for blood. Joss, a vampire slayer and Vlad's former friend, has moved back to Bathory. A mysterious and powerful new vampire, Dorian, appears with a shocking secret and an overwhelming desire to drink Vlad's blood. And Vlad's archenemy, D'Ablo, has a sinister plan to eliminate Vlad once and for all. With death threatening from every angle, Vlad will have to use every ounce of his skill and training to survive, but nothing can prepare him for what awaits him in the end.

Eleventh Grade Burns is an action-packed thriller that will leave readers dying to sink their teeth into the next and final installment.

Newly blind Natalie must make the decision whether to embrace life or live scared

In many ways, Natalie O'Reilly is a typical fourteenyear-old girl. But a routine visit to the eye doctor produces devastating news: Natalie will lose her sight within a few short months.

Suddenly her world is turned upside down. Natalie is sent to a school for the blind to learn skills such as Braille and how to use a cane. Outwardly, she does as she's told; inwardly, she hopes for a miracle that will free her from a dreaded life of blindness. But the miracle does not come, and Natalie ultimately must confront every blind person's dilemma. Will she go home to live scared? Or will she embrace the skills she needs to make it in a world without sight?

Priscilla Cummings is the author of Red Kayak and A Face First, an ALA Notable Book. She spent an academic year attending school with blind students before writing this story of a teenager's wrenching physical and mental journey into blindness. She lives in Annapolis, Maryland.

The irrepressible Skippyjon Jones is back, better—and smarter than ever

After his mama tells him that school—obedience school, that is—is only for dogs, the kitty boy who thinks he is a Chihuahua knows that's the place for him. So he heads off to the playground of his imagination where he is surrounded by dogs of all kinds, including his best buddies, the Chimichango gang. But a bully is sending shiver-itos down the spines of the little yippers. How Skippy busts the bully and gets the biggest gold star makes for a big learning experience—in fun!—for everyone.

The true tale of how a classic was born

People around the world know the story of Peter Pan, the boy who would not grow up, but not many know the story of his creator, J. M. Barrie. Barrie's young childhood was marked by sorrow, but also held great adventure. His adult life and relationship with the Davies family brought about a second childhood that helped him to create his lasting triumph. Masterfully illustrated by Steve Adams and using Barrie's own words, Jane Yolen tells the story of the author and the boys who changed his life.

Jane Yolen has been called "America's Hans Christian Andersen." She lives in Massachusetts and Scotland.

Steve Adams is an award-winning illustrator. He lives with his family in Quebec.

For the first time in 80 years, an all-new tale of Winnie-the-Pooh!

It was eighty years ago, on the publication of The House at Pooh Corner, when Christopher Robin said good-bye to Winnie-the-Pooh and his friends in the Hundred Acre Wood. Now they are all back in new adventures, for the first time approved by the Trustees of the Pooh Properties. This is a companion volume that truly captures the style of A. A. Milne a worthy sequel to The House at Pooh Corner and Winnie-the-Pooh.

World Cup fever!

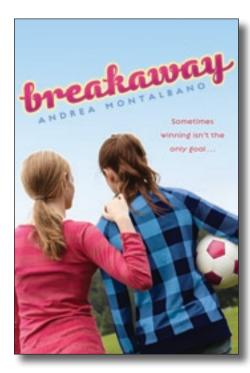

What happens when a star player ends up on the worst team? He either learns to lose or he stops playing the game he loves. These are the choices facing Jake, who has gone from champion to last place, testing his sportsmanship every time his soccer team gets waxed. It is his teammate Kevin who shows Jake that being a good captain means scoring and assisting off the field as much as being the star player on it.

The latest in #1 bestseller Mike Lupica's Comeback Kids novels is a cheer-worthy ode to the one sport played by more kids across the country than any other—in the summer of the next World Cup.

A debut novel about growing up—on the field as well as off

LJ knows her place in the world is on the soccer field. When she's out there scoring goals, everything's right. But being a big-shot on the field has started going to her head. She's been letting her temper get the best of her—both on the field and off, alienating everyone around her. Everyone except Tabitha, the popular girl who cares more about credit cards than yellow cards and spends most of her time on the bench. But when it's LJ on the bench instead of Tabitha, forced to be a spectator instead of a star, she realizes that sometimes it takes more skill and guts to make others look good instead of yourself. And that by losing a little glory, you can win more than just championships.

Andrea Montalbano lives in Bronxville, New York.

Introducing a phenomenal new talent!

When poor Boston girl Stephanie is abandoned by her abusive mother and taken in by Annie's Beverly Hills family, she feels anything but home. Her dark complexion and accent stick out like a sore thumb in the golden-hued world of blondes and extravagance. These are girls who seem to live life in fastforward, while Stephanie is stuck on pause. Yet when a new rival moves to town, threatening Annie's queen-bee status, Stephanie finds herself taking sides in a battle she never even knew existed, and that feeling invisible is a wound that can only be healed by standing up for who she is.

Brilliant newcomer Mary Hanlon Stone delivers a compulsively readable insider's view of growing up in a world where money and privilege don't always glitter.

From the creators of ROAWR!, a razzle dazzle day with Gramma!

Going to Gramma's takes plenty of preparation. Granddaughter packs her overnighty trunk and says goodbye to Mom, Dad, little fish and baby in the bed. She can't wait to see her silly millie gramma! Together at last, the two spend a day full of dancing, painting each other and partying with a razzle and a dazzle before, finally, resting together in a ricky rocky swing. What a day!

Barbara Joosse's spirited text combined with Jan Jutte's lively illustrations create this delightful story. Full of engaging, bouncy language that zips right along, this is an original picture book that captures the loving relationship between a young-hearted gramma and her enthusiastic granddaughter.

A fun-filled adventure in the spirit of Chitty Chitty Bang Bang by New York Times bestselling author Clive Cussler

Take a look at Casey and Lacey Nicefolk and you'll see two regular, all-American kids. But these brother and sister twins have a secret. Hidden in the family barn is the most magical—and coolest—gadget unknown to man: a mystical box that can turn any small object into a life-size replica.

When the twins' parents go out of town, the two decide to put the box to use. Taking a model boat, they create a fully functioning powerboat and enter a race up the Sacramento River. But this is no ordinary boat, and this is no ordinary race. What follows is a nautical adventure where being the first to cross the finish line is not the only prize.

Clive Cussler lives in Arizona.

Solving crimes runs in the family

As Enola searches for the missing Lady Blanchefleur del Campo, she discovers that her brother Sherlock is just as diligently searching for Enola herself—and this time he really needs to catch her! He is in possession of a most peculiar package, a message from their long-lost mother that only Enola can decipher. Sherlock, along with their brother Mycroft, must follow Enola into the reeking tunnels of London's dark underbelly as they solve a triple mystery: What has happened to their mother? And to Lady Blanchefleur? And what does either have to do with Mycroft, who holds Enola's future in his everso-proper hands?

No one, not even Sherlock, is left unchanged or unsurprised in this brilliant conclusion to the Enola Holmes mystery series.

The time has come for a new generation of heroes

Four thousand years ago the world's first super human walked the earth. Possessing the strength of one hundred men, skin impervious to attack, and the ability to read minds, this immortal being used his power to conquer and enslave nations. Now plans are in motion that will transport this super human to the present, where he'll usher in a new age of tyranny unlike anything the world has ever seen.

Determined to stand against them, using powers they've only just begun to master, is a ragtag group of young heroes. For them this first test may be their greatest . . . and last.

Talent is a commodity in this comic adventure

Adam's sister is a singing sensation and he is her biggest fan. Unlike his superstar sibling, this twelveyear-old boy excels at absolutely nothing—although his sister would argue that he's the master of getting on her nerves. But when a mysterious creature as old as time steals her talent, it's Adam who fearlessly leads the charge to retrieve it and stop the creature before it can take the talents of other children.

Brimming with colorful characters and dastardly villains, and recalling the best of Roald Dahl, Alex Williams presents a humorous adventure about where talent truly lies.

Alex Williams lives in England.

There is no safe direction to run . . .

Bleeding and dizzy, Blade wakes up to find himself in the hospital. But how did he get there? With enemies coming at him from all sides, it's hard to know who attacked him. But he knows that whoever it was will be back to finish him off. And quick. So he's gotta go. He's gotta break outta there. Not only to save his own life, but there's kindly old Mary and little Jaz to think about. Who's looking out for them? On the run, with grinks hot on his tail and gravely injured, Blade will have to gather all his strength just to survive. And with nowhere to hide, he needs to run. Because this time, if he plays dead, that's exactly how he'll end up.

This captivating and suspenseful series never lets up. If A Clockwork Orange were to meet The Outsiders, Blade would be the result.

The perfect companion to Thank You, Mr. Falker

When young Trisha finds out her class at the new school is known as "The Junkyard," she is devastated. She moved from her old town so she wouldn't be in a special class anymore! But then she meets her teacher, the quirky and invincible Mrs. Peterson, and her classmates, an oddly brilliant group of students each with his or her own unique talent. And it is here in The Junkyard that Trisha learns the true meaning of genius, and that this group of misfits are, in fact, wonders, all of them.

Based on a real-life event in Patricia Polacco's childhood, this ode to teachers will inspire all readers to find their inner genius.

It's the year of Ranger's Apprentice!

Mankind puts its faith in many things—gods, kings, money—anything for protection from the world's many dangers. When a cult springs up in neighboring Clonmel, promising to quell the recent attacks by lawless marauders, people flock from all over to offer gold in exchange for protection. But this particular group, with which Halt is all too familiar, has a less than charitable agenda. Secrets will be unveiled and battles fought to the death as Will and Horace help Halt in ridding the land of a dangerous enemy.

The worldwide phenomenon is back with a gripping new adventure. Yet for these Rangers, the peril is only beginning . . .

What if you find your soul mate . . . and he's your best friend's boyfriend?

Best friends Lani and Erin couldn't be more different. Lani's reserved and thoughtful; Erin's bubbly and outgoing. Lani likes to do her own thing; Erin prefers an entourage. There's no possible way they could be interested in the same guy.

So when Erin starts dating Jason, Lani can't believe she feels such a deep connection with him—and it may be mutual. The more Lani fights it, the more certain she feels that it's her fate to be with Jason. But what do you do when the love of your life is the one person you can't have?

Susane Colasanti (www.susanecolasanti.com) is the author of When It Happens, Take Me There, and Waiting for You. Before becoming a full-time author, Susane was a high school science teacher for almost ten years. She lives in New York City.

A haunting, visceral story of first love . . . and life-changing choices

Madeleine and Rogan are first cousins, best friends, twinned souls, each other's first love. Even within their large, disorderly family—all descendants of a famous actress—their intensity and passion for theater sets them apart. It makes them a little dangerous. When they are cast in their school's production of Twelfth Night, they are forced to face their separate talents and futures, and their future together. This masterful short novel, winner of the World Fantasy Award, is magic on paper.

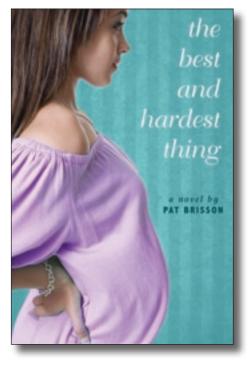

"Stunning. . . . The evocations of the play, of first love, of intense desire, are pitch-perfect." —Jeff Vandermeer, The SF Site

Elizabeth Hand (www.elizabethhand.com) lives in Lincolnville, Maine. Her adult novels have won the Shirley Jackson Award, two World Fantasy Awards, and two Nebula Awards. Viking will publish her next book, Wonderwall, in 2011.

The story of a good girl gone bad

Fifteen-year-old Molly Biden has always been studious, dependable, some might even say saintly. And she's sick of herself. So when she spots mysterious bad boy Grady Dillon, she devises a plan to make herself over into someone new, someone who will attract Grady's attention. She succeeds—but a little too well. When Molly discovers she's pregnant, she's forced to make the hardest choice of her life.

This addictively readable portrayal of Molly's struggle to accept her pregnancy and the fact that her life will never be the same is told entirely in poetry, from sonnets to haiku.

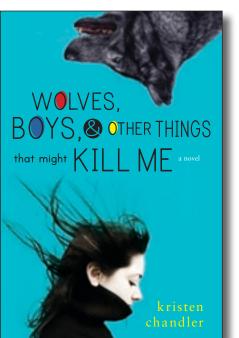

Pat Brisson (www.patbrisson.com) is the author of several books for young children. This is her first young adult novel. She lives in Phillipsburg, New Jersey.

What's more dangerous? Falling for a boy? Or falling for a wolf?

KJ Carson lives an outdoor lover's dream. The only daughter of a fishing and wildlife guide, KJ can hold her own on the water or in the mountains near her hometown outside Yellowstone National Park. But when she meets the shaggy-haired, intensely appealing Virgil, KJ loses all self-possession. And she's not sure if it's a good thing or a bad thing that they're assigned to work together on a school newspaper article about the famous wolves of Yellowstone. As KJ spends time with Virgil, she also spends more time getting to know a part of her world that she always took for granted . . . and she begins to see herself and her town in a whole new light.

Kristen Chandler has spent summers in Yellowstone at her family's cabin since she was a young girl. She is a fisherwoman, a marathoner, a writing instructor, and the mother of four children. She and her family live outside Salt Lake City, Utah. This is her first novel.

If you don't like your life—jump!

Jump. That is what P.K. has done. A totally wild, crazy jump from a restrictive life with her family into a life of total adventure—rock-climbing out west with a guy she barely knows. At first, everything's amazing. Not only are they climbing in awesomely beautiful national parks like Yosemite but they seem awesomely made for one another. P.K. is in heaven. And then the cops show up . . . with an arrest warrant. And P.K. has to decide who to believe: this amazing guy whom she trusts with her life—or the cops, who want her to believe that he may take her life.

Elisa Carbone (www.elisacarbone.com) knows the subject matter of Jump extremely well, having rock-climbed across the country, including in Yosemite National Park. She is the author of many award-winning books, including Stealing Freedom and Storm Warriors. The mother of two grown children, she lives with her husband in Maryland and West Virginia.

Before Max and Ruby were preschoolers, they were Baby Max and Ruby. The popular bunny siblings are back in two more board books—as their baby selves.

by Rosemary Wells

In Sandbox, Max and Ruby mix delectable treats out of bubbles, berries, birdseed, and sand.

In Birthday, Max gets lots of wonderful birthday presents—but none quite so nice as Grandma's!

With eye-catching novelty elements, these irresistible board books will introduce the very youngest readers to the beloved bunny pair, who star in their own show on Nick Jr. and Noggin.

Rosemary Wells (www.rosemarywells.com) is a prominent advocate for literacy, as well as the author of more than thirty books about Max and Ruby. She lives in Greenwich, Connecticut.

Best friends from Moon Rabbit are back in a charming new story

Brown Rabbit is excited to make his first-ever trip to the city to visit his best friend, Little Rabbit. But the visit doesn't go quite as planned. Little Rabbit is so busy making sure that they see all her favorite cafés, shops, and museums that she forgets the real reason for Brown Rabbit's visit—to see her! It takes a lovely garden and a sweet surprise to show them both that all the hustle and bustle of the city is worth little without a good friend to share it with.

Lovingly told, this beautiful book by Scottish author-illustrator Natalie Russell reminds readers of the simple delight of friendship.

- ★ "The story's considerable appeal is amplified by Russell's exceptional artwork. . . . A charming offering."—Booklist, starred review for Moon Rabbit
- ★ "Children (and adults) will appreciate this gentle take on the joys of companionship."—Publishers Weekly, starred review for Moon Rabbit

HANK THE COWDOG: THE CASE OF THE COYOTE INVASION (#56)

by John R. Erickson illustrated by Gerald L. Holmes

Hank the Cowdog goes face-to-face with his archenemies in this latest adventure!

Hank's in trouble again, and all he wants to do is apologize to Sally May. But as usual, Sally May just doesn't seem to be getting the message. Before Hank has a chance to convince her that he's really sorry, though, he learns that the ranch is being targeted for a major invasion from the dreaded coyotes. Does Hank have what it takes to save his reputation and protect the ranch?

HORRIBLE HARRY GOES CUCKOO (#25)

by Suzy Kline illustrated by Amy Wummer When Harry goes stir-crazy, there's trouble ahead

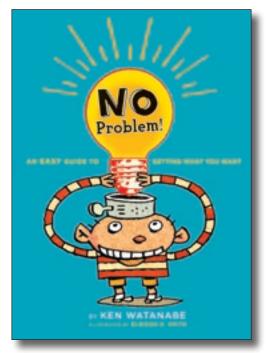

It's a horrible day for Harry: a classmate is calling him names; his library book is overdue; he's last in line for a turn to be the Room 3B VIP. Worst of all, it's cold and icy outside again, which means no outdoor recess. It's all too much for Harry—he starts to go cuckoo! Fortunately, there is a solution to Harry's problems . . . but it comes from a very unexpected source.

Suzy Kline (www.suzykline.com), author of the twenty-four previous Horrible Harry books, lives in West Willington, Connecticut.

Amy Wummer lives in Reading, Pennsylvania. She is the illustrator of many books for children, including several other Horrible Harry books.

The irrepressible hero of Tiger Can't Sleep is back!

In this delightful role-reversal story, all the serious little boy wants is to settle down quietly and read his book. But that's not so easy when there's an imaginative tiger with an excess of energy behind the couch, wanting attention and someone to play with. Repetitive refrains and sound effects make this a perfect read-aloud, and the sweet and cozy ending will delight the heart of any book-lover.

S. J. Fore lives in Hendersonville, Tennessee, without a tiger.

R. W. Alley (www.rwalley.com) has illustrated nearly a hundred books for children, including Ballerino Nate (Dial). He lives with his family in Barrington, Rhode Island.

How do you know when you've crossed the line between curiosity and obsession?

Carly never meant to become a stalker. She just wanted to find out who Brian started dating after he dumped her. But a little harmless online research turns into a quick glance, and that turns into an afternoon of watching. Soon Carly is putting all of her energy into following Brian's new girlfriend—all of the sadness she feels about her mom's recent breakup, all of the anger she feels over being pushed aside by her dad while he prepares for his new wife's new baby. When Carly's stalking is discovered in the worst possible way by the worst possible person, she is forced to acknowledge her problem and the underlying issues that led to it.

The perfect book for celebrating every child's accomplishments

Every stage in growing up has its own fun and challenges, and the adorable star of this book faces each one with gusto. As a baby, there's the taste-everything phase—whether it is meant to be eaten—or not! And as a toddler, there's the question-everything phase. But all the while baby is growing up and becoming a curious kid whose exploration of the world leads to amazing places and discoveries. He's come so far and learned so much, and now everyone is so proud of him!

This celebration of curiosity and creativity, with its funny, joyful illustrations full of kid-friendly details, is a great gift for any major milestone.

A heartwarming tale about friendship by an exciting new voice in children's books

Henry wants a dog more than anything in the world—more than a cowboy costume, even more than an all-expenses-paid trip to the moon. So he puts an ad in the newspaper to find the perfect pet.

Far away, a lonely duck who desperately wants a friend reads the ad. He has the clever idea to disguise himself as a dog and apply for the job of Henry's best friend. But his cover is quickly blown when he isn't very good at catching balls and his floppy ears and tail fall off. Henry is disappointed for a moment, until he thinks of all the amazing things this duck CAN do, and realizes he's found the perfect pet after all.

Fiona Roberton's irresistible illustrations and utterly charming characters will win the hearts of readers of all ages.

Fiona Roberton is a graphic designer. This is her first picture book published in the United States.

An uproarious primate parody from the creator of Goodnight Goon!

George is an ape—not a monkey—and he is perfectly happy living his simple life in the jungle, until one day the man in the funny hat kidnaps him and brings him to the big city. Poor George! Forced to live in a cage at the zoo, then work hard manual labor and be mocked on stage—George has every reason to be upset. In fact, after all the maltreatment, he's downright furious! So it's a good thing George is one clever ape. Perhaps getting mad is not the only answer. Readers will laugh out loud when George comes up with a way to outsmart the man in the funny hat.

A brand-new middle grade series, perfect for fans of Lauren Myracle and Judy Blume!

Sixth grade is hard enough for Lucy B. Parker, but it gets so much worse when her mom announces that she's going to marry Laurel Moses's dad. Yes, that Laurel Moses—the TV-movie-music star who makes Hannah Montana look like some random kid from the sticks. Suddenly, Lucy's life is turned upside down and sideways. All Lucy wants to do is get through the day without totally embarrassing herself too much, but that's hard to do when you're the less-pretty, less-talented not-quite-sister of a mega superstar.

Robin Palmer (www.robinpalmeronline.com) grew up in Massachusetts and New Jersey. She moved to Los Angeles where she worked as an assistant in the television literary department of the William Morris Agency before quickly moving up the ranks, and spending the next decade as a literary agent, producer, and television network executive at Lifetime Television, where she developed over one hundred scripts and oversaw the production of over thirty of the cable network's original movies. In 2001, she decided to give the writing thing a try. Since then, she's written everything from screenplays to essays to a novel to a preschool guide. She currently resides in New York City.

Introducing Princess Posey!

Posey is really nervous about starting first grade. Instead of getting walked to her classroom, her mom has to drop her off at the Kiss-and-Go Lane. Then she'll have to walk into school and face the Monster of the Blue Hall all by herself. Worst of all, she has to do it without the one thing that always makes her feel brave and special: the tutu that turns her into the Pink Princess. But when Posey inspires her new teacher to throw a first-day parade in which all the kids are invited to wear whatever makes them feel the most comfortable, first grade starts to look a lot more promising.

Posey will charm readers just graduating from easy-to-reads (and from kindergarten) in this lively new series.

Set sail on a swashbuckling adventure set during the Napoleonic Wars!

Illustrated in comic-book format with detailed informational sidebars, this high-concept hybrid is a fast-paced action-adventure—like a Patrick O'Brian novel for kids!

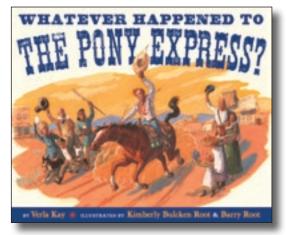

Jack Hoyton is just a boy when he enlists in the Royal Navy and is assigned to the HMS Defender, a midsized frigate defending the British Isles from invasion by the French emperor Napoleon. Little could have prepared him for the hard work and danger of life on the high seas, or for the strict military discipline aboard the ship during wartime. While blockading a French port, the crew of the Defender gets into more trouble than they planned for when they are betrayed during an excursion ashore. It is up to Jack to free his imprisoned shipmates and warn the Defender that they are headed into a deadly trap!

Marking the 150th anniversary of the creation of the Pony Express

When the Pony Express came along, it cut the time it took to send a letter across the country in half. But only a year and a half later, with the arrival of transcontinental telegraph lines, it was put right out of business.

Along with a family's story told through crosscountry letters, Verla Kay uses her trademark short, rhythmic verse to pack in loads of information about how the Pony Express came to be and why it didn't last. And Barry and Kim Root's gorgeous illustrations help bring this fascinating, fleeting bit of history to new life.

Verla Kay (www.verlakay.com) is the author of many acclaimed historical books for children. She lives in Tekoa, Washington.

Barry and Kimberly Root live with their children in Pennsylvania. Illustrators of highly praised picture books separately, this is their first book together.

Advance Praise for Restoring Harmony:

"Restoring Harmony is a sweeping adventure about a determined girl fighting to bring her family together in a broken world. Armed with only a fiddle and a keen sense of the land, Molly is the best kind of heroine—smart, feisty and courageous. Anthony writes with tenderness and imbues her story with hope. This is a coming-of-age journey at its best. Anthony is a welcome new voice in teen lit." —Suzanne Selfors, author of Saving Juliet and Coffeehouse Angel

A riveting tale of how a resourceful teen survives and even finds romance in a plausible future world where no one is as they seem

The year is 2041, and sixteen-year-old Molly McClure has lived a relatively quiet life on an isolated farming island in Canada, but when her family fears the worst may have happened to her grandparents in the US, Molly must brave the dangerous, chaotic world left after global economic collapse—one of massive oil shortages, rampant crime, and abandoned cities.

Molly is relieved to find her grandparents alive in their Portland suburb, but they're financially ruined and practically starving. What should've been a quick trip turns into a full-fledged rescue mission. And when Molly witnesses something the local crime bosses wishes she hadn't, Molly's only way home may be to beat them at their own game. Luckily, there's a handsome stranger who's willing to help.

Restoring Harmony is a riveting, fast-paced dystopian tale complete with adventure and romance that readers will devour.

What if you found out that the world's most famous pop star was actually your sister?

Her whole life, Alexia Garcia has been told that she looks just like pop star Kari Kingsley, and one day when Alexia's photo filters through the Internet, she's offered a job to be Kari's double. This would seem like the opportunity of a lifetime, but Alexia's mother has always warned her against celebrities.

Rebelliously, Alexia flies off to L.A. and gets immersed in a celebrity life. Not only does she have to get used to getting anything she wants, she romances the hottest lead singer on the charts, and finds out that her own father is a singing legend. Through it all, Alexia must stay true to herself, which is hard to do when you are pretending to be somebody else!

The touching story of a little pig and his dachshund foster mom

Pink was the runt of the pig litter. He was so small that the Kerby family didn't think he would surviveso they brought him into the house where he met Tink, a new dachshund mom. When Tink saw Pink, she immediately adopted him into her family, and helped nurse him back to health. Pink thrived in his new family: the puppies didn't mind that Pink looked nothing like them—he was just their size.

This remarkable story has already garnered a great deal of media attention: the irresistible photographs documenting Pink and Tink's relationship have appeared on Good Morning America and The Ellen DeGeneres Show. Readers of all ages will be captivated by these adorable animals and the amazing bond that they share.

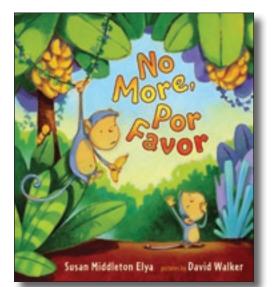

Johanna Kerby lives on a small farm in West Virginia with her husband and four children. She considers herself to be a "pig farmer," raising pigs with her family for 4-H and FFA projects.

Picky eaters have never been so entertaining

The rain forest is lush with delicious things to eat, but it's also full of terribly picky eaters! Mangoes are too sweet for the baby iguana, bananas are just too yellow for monito (little monkey), and little quetzal can't take even one more squishy avocado. Then fed-up Mamá Macaw has an idea that brings all the kids together to share a meal, and everyone finds exciting new foods to try. And what could be more fun than sharing a feast with friends?

A moody tale of romance set in the turbulent aftermath of the tsunami

Still haunted by nightmares of her mother's death, fifteen-year-old Sienna Jones reluctantly travels to Indonesia with her father's relief team to help tsunami orphans with their post traumatic stress disorder—something Sienna knows a lot about. Since her mother's plane went missing over the Indian Ocean three years before, Sienna doesn't do anything if it involves the ocean or planes, so this trip is a big step forward.

But the last thing she expects is to fall for Deni, a brooding Indonesian boy who lives at the orphanage, and just so happens to be HOT. When Deni hears a rumor that his father may be alive, Sienna doesn't think twice about running away with him to the epicenter of the disaster. Unfortunately, what they find there could break both their hearts.

A compelling summer romance, Sea marks the arrival of a stunning new voice in YA.

> "When someone asks for a reading suggestion, Enthusiasm is the first word off my tongue." —Stephenie Meyer, author of Twilight

What if fairy-tale magic really existed?

Elizabeth has a new job at an unusual library a lending library of objects, not books. In a secret room in the basement lies the Grimm Collection. That's where the librarians lock away powerful items straight out of the Brothers Grimm fairy tales: seven-league boots, a table that produces a feast at the blink of an eye, Snow White's stepmother's sinister mirror that talks in riddles.

When the magical objects start to disappear, Elizabeth embarks on a dangerous quest to catch the thief before she can be accused of the crime—or captured by the thief.

Polly Shulman has created a contemporary fantasy with a fascinating setting and premise, starring an ordinary girl whose after-school job is far from ordinary—and leads to a world of excitement, romance and magical intrigue.

The perfect gift book for every new baby

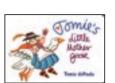

Since its original publication in 1985, Tomie dePaola's Mother Goose has become a staple on children's bookshelves everywhere, and features over two hundred Mother Goose rhymes charmingly illustrated by one of today's most beloved artists. This special anniversary edition includes a framable print with brand-new art and an author's note from Tomie, and is sure to continue as a family favorite for generations to come.

Tomie dePaola (www.tomie.com) is the acclaimed author and/or illustrator of more than 200 books for children, including New York Times bestseller Brava, Strega Nona!, Newbery Honor winner 26 Fairmount Avenue and Caldecott Honor winner Strega Nona. Among his many awards and honors, he has received the Smithson Medal and the Regina Medal, and was designated a "living treasure" by the state of New Hampshire. He is the first author known primarily for children's book writing to be awarded the Sarah Josepha Hale Award, a prestigious distinction given to New England writers. He lives in New London, New Hampshire.

Spot has loads of fun in two new 8x8 story books

SPOT'S HIDE AND SEEK by Eric Hill

Join Spot and his friends in a game of hide-and-seek. They hide, but each time Spot gets close, their giggles give them away! Once everyone has been found, they decide that maybe the game should be called "hide and giggle." Here's a fun story about every child's favorite game that will have them laughing along with Spot.

TIME FOR BED, SPOT

by Eric Hill

It's time for bed, but Spot just isn't tired yet, so he pretends to be a pirate king and a cowboy. What a commotion! Mom comes in to check and finds Spot fast asleep, exhausted from his adventures. This is a perfect bedtime story, full of imagination.

Eric Hill (www.funwithspot.com) left school when he was fifteen and took up cartooning while working as a messenger at an art studio. He created Where's Spot as a bedtime story for his two year-old son. It was published four years later, and the rest is history. Eric Hill now lives in France.

Meet LUCY B. PARKER, star of new middle grade series from bestselling author Robin Palmer!

In between dealing with a new superstar stepsister, trying to avoid bra-shopping trips with her mom, and surviving sixth grade, Lucy took some time to answer these totally important questions.

Q: Why is your book called YOURS TRULY, LUCY B. PARKER?

A: Because I sent a lot of e-mails to Dr. Maude, the famous advice-giver who has that television show called Come on, People–Grow Up Already! She hasn't written me back yet because she's really busy, but I know that at some point she will and she'll give me the perfect advice about how to deal with moving and all this family stuff and Laurel Moses and how to handle a mother who keeps nagging you to get a bra. So I sign each e-mail Yours truly, Lucy B. Parker 1) because it's the polite way to do it and 2) because my name is Lucy B. Parker.

Q: Is your mom really dating teen superstar Laurel Moses's father?!

A: Um, she's not just dating him-she's going to marry him. And do you know where she told me? In the middle of Barbara's Bra World!!! Does my mother not realize that that will forever be considered the worst day of my entire life? Having to get a bra and find out that she was ruining my life by making me leave Northampton, Massachusetts, where I've lived forever, and move to New York City??

Q: One last question: what advice would you give girls who might be dealing with the kind of stuff you're dealing with?

A: That's easy. 1) Just because you're coordination -challenged and your stepsister is pretty and the most popular girl in the entire world doesn't mean you're a loser; 2) If you're going to use a straightening iron on your hair, only leave it on for like a minute or so instead of like a half hour; 3) remember to bring a maxipad with you wherever you go because you never know when you might get your period. 4) Just be yourself because my friend Pete's right, it gives you a lot more energy, which is good because that means you can stay up a lot later at night reading under the covers with a flashlight.

A brand new middle grade series, perfect for fans of Lauren Myracle and Judy Blume!

Sixth grade is hard enough for Lucy B. Parker, but it gets so much worse when her mom announces that she's going to marry Laurel Moses's dad. Yes, that Laurel Moses—the TV-movie-music star who makes Hannah Montana look like some random kid from the sticks. Suddenly, Lucy's life is turned upside down and sideways. All Lucy wants to do is get through the day without totally embarrassing herself too much, but that's hard to do when you're the less-pretty, less-talented not-quitesister of a mega superstar.

Robin Palmer (www.robinpalmeronline.com) grew up in Massachusetts and New Jersey. She moved to Los Angeles where she worked as an assistant in the television literary department of the William Morris Agency before quickly moving up the ranks, and spending the next decade as a literary agent, producer, and television network executive at Lifetime Television, where she developed over one hundred scripts and oversaw the production of over thirty of the cable network's original movies. In 2001, she decided to give the writing thing a try. Since then, she's written everything from screenplays to essays to a novel to a preschool quide. She currently resides in New York City.

First in a new series! Book #2 coming November 2010!

Puzzle master Winston Breen is back in another fun-filled, puzzlefilled middle-grade adventure!

When a local potato chip tycoon invites area kids to an all-day puzzle hunt, Winston Breen is psyched. But it turns out the day is not all fun and games. Their teacher is being overly competitive, the puzzles are hard (even for Winston), and someone in the contest is playing dirty in order to win the fifty-thousand-dollar grand prize! Trying to stop the mystery cheater before it's too late takes an already tough challenge to a whole new level....

"The joy for both contestants and readers of this brain-teasing mystery will be in the process."

The sixth novel in the New York Times bestselling Ranger's Apprentice series!

The kingdom is in danger. Renegade knight Sir Keren has succeeded in overtaking Castle Macindaw and is now conspiring with the Scotti. The fate of Araluen rests in the hands of two young adventurers: the Ranger Will and his warrior friend, Horace. Yet for Will, the stakes are even higher. For inside the castle, someone he loves is being held hostage. And now the time has come for this onetime apprentice to grow up.

The perfect way to introduce young readers to the Revolutionary era!

Beginning with the Stamp Act that angered the patriots, readers meet George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and other historical figures, and learn about the documents and battles that kept the fight for freedom alive. Each striking illustration, painted on hand-carved replicas of colonial signs, introduces readers to the people, places, and events that gave birth to our nation.

From Oscar-winning songwriter Dean Pitchford comes a superhero-sized middle-school adventure about a shy boy who finds the courage to help others

When Newt Newman's football-star brother, Chris, is knocked into a coma during the biggest game of the season, Newt's two best friends keep his mind off of the accident by helping him create the ultimate Halloween costume: Captain Nobody. Newt feels strong and confident in his new getup, so he keeps wearing it after Halloween is over. Soon Newt assumes the role of a hero in a string of exploits that include foiling a robbery and saving a planeload of passengers. But will Captain Nobody be able to save the one person he cares about most?

American history meets action and adventure in the middlegrade sequel to the well-received Gods of Manhattan

Rory has known about Mannahatta—the spirit world filled with the "gods" who ruled New York City in its early days—only a month when an earthquake strikes. This is no ordinary earthquake, though—it is the island's attempt at breaking the Trap around Central Park. The Trap must open or the balance between Mannahatta and Manhattan will be destroyed—and only Rory can open it. But it will take help from Rory's newfound friends, including the band of children of the gods—aka the Rattle Watch—and encounters with some of New York's famous figures, including Washington Irving, Captain Kidd, and Bill the Butcher, to help him figure out how to do that. And the answer may just surprise him. . . .

The follow-up to the awardwinning book about the endearing and unforgettable Emma-Jean Lazarus

The endearing, if not quirky, Emma-Jean Lazarus is back in the companion to Emma-Jean Lazarus Fell Out of a Tree. When Emma-Jean thinks about asking Will Keeler to the Spring Fling dance, she gets a fluttering feeling in her heart. What would someone like Will say to someone like Emma-Jean? After all, Emma-Jean is a little...different. Meanwhile, Emma-Jean's best friend, Colleen, has a secret admirer. With the Spring Fling just days away, she asks Emma-Jean to figure out who he is so maybe then Colleen could ask him to the dance. It's a perfect plan. But what Emma-Jean discovers could have consequences for everyone....

First the Earth's champions, old and new, returned to a world that thought the era of superheroes had come to a close. Then an age-old conflict of good versus evil, heroes versus villains, was renewed. And now it all comes down to one battle—the battle to end all battles. And if Quantum's prophecy proves true, it could just mean the end of the world as we know it. The new heroes' powers are getting stronger, and they're still learning how to harness them. But when one of their own turns her ability to control minds against the rest, they face something much larger than themselves, and the fate of the world hangs in the balance.

Emmy Award–winning wildlife biologist Jeff Corwin is back with another fun-filled installment in his Junior Explorer series!

It's a fascinating adventure with nature—this time in New Mexico! Budding naturalists Lucy, Benjamin, and Gabe are back and camping in the Gila National Forest in New Mexico! Readers can join the fun as these kids explore the diverse desert ecosystem. This is the third book in Jeff Corwin's young middlegrade fiction series, which shows kids that no matter where you live, you can have fun discovering the plants, animals, and natural life around you.

From an early age, Jeff Corwin has worked for the conservation of endangered species. In addition to his work as a wildlife biologist, he is also an Emmy Award–winning producer and host of more than a dozen television series that have been broadcast in more than 100 countries for the following networks: Discovery, Animal Planet, Disney, the Food Network, NBC, CNN, and the Travel Channel. His most recent documentary project, MSNBC's 100 Heartbeats, is based on a book of the same name. He is also the founder of the Ecozone, an interactive museum in Norwell, Massachusetts. When not in the field, Corwin resides with his wife and two daughters on a small island off of the southeastern coast of Massachusetts.

RETURN TO GROOSHAM GRANGE: THE UNHOLY GRAIL by Anthony Horowitz

Another spooky tale from the New York Times bestselling author of the Alex Rider series!

A year ago, thirteen-year-old David Eliot would have given anything to see the end of Groosham Grange and its ghastly teachers. Now he's on track to win the Unholy Grail, a cup of magical power rewarded to the star student. But a series of suspicious mishaps is closing the gap between David and the new boy, Vincent. It seems as though someone—or some thing—doesn't want David to win the cup and may even be threatening Groosham Grange's very existence!

Readers who love Amber Brown and Judy Moody are sure to enjoy the fifth book in the Emma series!

Emma McGraw's third-grade class is getting ready for Winter Games Day, and Emma wants to win a prize more than anything. It would be the perfect way to make her father proud. But the rest of the class has mixed feelings about Winter Games Day. Jared is desperate to be the fastest runner and the farthest jumper, Fiona is worried about her weak ankles, and Annie Pat doesn't seem to care at all. When the big day arrives, nothing goes exactly as planned, but Emma is still determined to be as excellent as she can be.

Everyone's favorite psychic investigator is back on the case in America's capital!

When Gilda lands a summer internship at the International Spy Museum in Washington, D.C., she finds herself caught up in both a museum haunting and a real case of espionage. While investigating a cemetery where Abraham Lincoln's son was once buried, Gilda stumbles upon a spy's "dead drop" of classified information. As she tries to decode the cryptic message, Gilda realizes her case is not only a matter of investigating the supernatural; she's involved in an urgent matter of national security and faces her most serious challenge yet.

The third book from the bestselling author of When It Happens and Take Me There

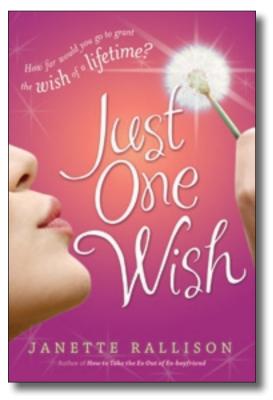

It's sophomore year, and Marisa is ready for a fresh start and, hopefully, her first real boyfriend. But after popular Derek asks her out, things get complicated. Not only do her parents unexpectedly separate, but Marisa has a fight with her best friend, and Derek—the love of her life—delivers a shocking disappointment. The only things keeping Marisa together are the podcasts from the anonymous DJ, who seems to totally understand Marisa. But she doesn't know who he is . . . or maybe she does.

Sixteen-year-old Maggie Bennet's life is in tatters. Her mother has disappeared, and is presumed dead. The next thing she knows, her father has dragged Maggie away from their elegant Newport home, off on some mad excursion to Yellowstone in Montana. Torn from the only life she's ever known, away from her friends, from society, and verging on no prospects, Maggie is furious and devastated by her father's betrayal. But when she arrives, she finds herself drawn to the frustratingly stubborn, handsome Tom Rowland, the son of a park geologist, and to the wild romantic beauty of Yellowstone itself. And as Tom and the promise of freedom capture Maggie's heart, Maggie is forced to choose between who she is and who she wants to be.

Janet Fox is a full-time resident of College Station, Texas, and a part-time resident of Montana (just outside of Yellowstone National Park).

From the coauthor of Scrambled Eggs at Midnight and Dream Factory comes a clean teen romance perfect for those with a sweet tooth!

When Penny moves to Hog's Hollow from New York City, her life changes drastically. Penny's mom now runs a cupcake bakery, and Penny is stuck helping out. But that isn't the worst of it. Not only did she leave her friends back home, but her dad stayed behind too. And then there's Charity, resident mean girl who's out to get Penny. With all this, Penny still finds some things to like: Tally and Blake...and Marcus—the cute, quiet boy who runs on the beach every night. But just when Penny begins to accept her new life, she's forced to make a choice that will change everything.

New York Times bestseller Lauren Myracle's heartwarming novel about sisters

Wealth. Privilege. Way too many pastel-tinted opinions. That is Carly's life, and . . . It's. Getting. On. Her. Nerves. Carly is ready to ditch the southern princess act and become real. The thing is, she's always counted on her little sister, Anna, to love and support her—and tell her how right she is. But when Anna turns "hot" over the course of a single summer, everything goes weird. Suddenly Anna's swimming in the deep end with the big girls while Carly watches from the kiddie pool, alone. Carly's always relied on the constancy of her sister, but now everything is different, and she's not so sure she likes it.

Equal parts romance and heartpounding action, this novel by the author of the award-winning Jerk, California will leave you absolutely breathless

Jake King is a full-fledged adrenaline junkie. He'll jump off of a waterfall, ride his bike down the side of a mountain, rock climb without harnesses...anything to feel the rush. Besides his best friend and secret love of his life, the beautiful Salome Lee, getting his adrenaline pumping is the only thing that clears his head. So when he's offered a spot on a hotshot crew of firefighters who rappel into wildfires, it's the perfect opportunity. Never mind that the crew members call themselves the Immortals, and that they have a habit of dying young. Salome knows there's more to the crew's mortality rate than bad luck, and to save Jake, she puts their friendship—and their unspoken romance—on the line. But to Jake, firefighting is like breathing pure adrenaline. And if he doesn't stop soon, they could all get burned. . . .

Jonathan Friesen's first novel, Jerk, California, was the winner of the 2008 Schneider Family Book Award. Jonathan was a public school teacher for fourteen years and a writing instructor at the University of Minnesota before becoming a full-time author and writing coach for young adults. A riveting tale about love and sacrifice by a National Book Award winner Silvia's brother, Eduardo, has Disappeared, and she won't stop fighting until she finds him. Norberto, the general's son, is just foolish enough to help. He'll fall in love with her, and then he'll ask his father to set Eduardo free. At least that's the premise on which Silvia bases her scheme. In chapters alternating between Silvia's and Eduardo's perspectives, acclaimed author Gloria Whelan gives voice to the families who struggled to survive in 1970s Argentina—and to the many who still, today, remain Disappeared.

"Their compelling tale is a chilling account of the manipulative power of corruption."

The crossover literary sensation . . . now in paperback!

Through the lens of Kelly Link's vivid imagination, nothing is what it seems, and everything deserves a second look. From the multiple award-winning "The Faery Handbag," in which a teenager's grandmother carries an entire village (or is it a man-eating dog?) in her handbag, to the near-future of "The Surfer," whose narrator (a soccer-playing skeptic) waits with a planeload of refugees for the aliens to arrive, these ten stories are funny and full of unexpected insights and skewed perspectives on the world. Kelly Link's fans range from Michael Chabon to Peter Buck of R.E.M. to Holly Black of Spiderwick Chronicles fame. Now teens can have their world rocked too!

"Kelly Link is a sorceress to be reckoned with." —New York Times

"Link's writing is dazzling." —Entertainment Weekly

Award-winning author Paul Volponi is back with a brutally honest and chilling story of hate

Noah and his friends go to a predominantly all-white neighborhood with a plan: steal a car, sell it to a chop shop, and make some fast cash. But that never happens. Instead, Noah, a teen father, becomes the victim of a vicious beating that leaves him with a fractured skull. The question is, was the attacker protecting his turf, or did he target Noah just because he's black?

"Writing in an authentic voice, Volponi balances sensitivity and rage, but his most subtle achievement is the multi-generational family drama." —Booklist

High school can be so draining when you're half-human, halfvampire

It's another awful year at Bathory High for Vladimir Tod. The evil vampire D'Ablo is hunting for the ritual that could steal Vlad's powers. His best friend doesn't want to be his drudge anymore. And it's getting harder for Vlad to resist feeding on the people around him. When months go by with no word from Uncle Otis, and D'Ablo shows up demanding Vlad's father's journal, Vlad realizes that having a normal high school year is the least of his concerns. Vlad needs to act fast, and even his status as the Pravus won't save him this time.

If you think the stakes in your high school are high, imagine what's it's like for a teenage vampire

Eleventh grade at Bathory High is draining Vladimir Tod. Joss, a professional vampire slayer and Vlad's former friend, has moved back to town. The powerful vampire Dorian has an overwhelming desire to drink Vlad's blood. And his arch enemy, D'Ablo, has brought Vlad's Uncle Otis to trial for crimes against vampires. So much for dating. When the tables turn on Vlad, he has just enough time to return to Bathory for his final good-byes . . .

Heather Brewer (www.heatherbrewer.com) doesn't believe in happy endings—unless they involve blood. She lives in St. Louis, Missouri.

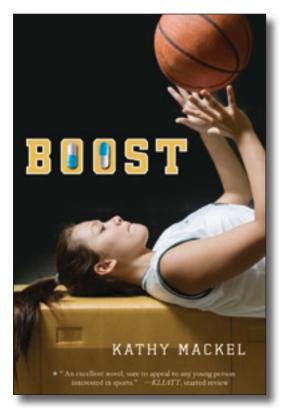

Includes an exclusive conversation between Vlad Tod and Heather Brewer!

In the world of high school sports, guys aren't the only ones taking steroids

Thirteen-year-old Savvy's three-point shot is deadly. But she gets pushed around on the basketball court. Her older sister, Callie, is on varsity cheerleading, but she's not light enough to be a flier—her coveted position. Both girls need to boost their level of competition to get into the action. How far are they willing to go to be the best?

★ "Readers will come away with a better understanding of the controversy surrounding steroid use, and with an appreciation for a talented voice in young adult literature."

HIGH RHULAIN A TALE OF REDWALL

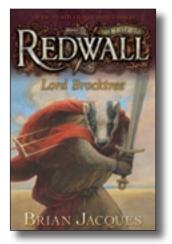

by Brian Jacques illustrated by David Elliot

"Jacques combines action, poetry, songs, courage, and vivid descriptions to create a unique style. His characterizations are complex ... As with the other volumes, there is sacrifice, death, and bloody battles galore. Readers familiar with the series will relish returning to the Abbey. Those new to the Redwall universe will be looking for the previous titles." —School Library Journal

Stories that let fairy-tale villains have their say!

Everyone thinks they know the real story behind the villains in fairy tales—but the villains themselves beg to differ. In Troll's-Eye View, you'll hear from the Giant's wife ("Jack and the Beanstalk"), Rumpelstiltskin, the oldest of the Twelve Dancing Princesses, and many more. A stellar lineup of authors, including Garth Nix, Jane Yolen, and Nancy Farmer, makes sure that these old stories do new tricks!

THE LAUNCH OF A BRAND-NEW SERIES!

Meet Frannie Miller:

While other girls her age dream of getting a doll for Christmas, Frannie dreams of getting a paper shredder. Other girls would die for a canopy bed, but Frannie would prefer an ergonomic chair. And what girl doesn't fantasize about some day getting a new baby sister? Well, Frannie would actually much prefer a personal assistant, thank you very much.

An excerpt from Frankly, Frannie:

"My class is going to visit the Sandy Sanders Show. At an actual real-life radio station."

"Uh-oh," was what my mother said.

My father inched his way back to the edge of his seat. "Hmmm . . . What did Mrs. Pellington have to say?"

That was the exact question I did not want to answer.

I answered it, anyway. "She wants you to call her."

My dad folded his arms across his chest. "Yeah, she probably wants us to have a good long talk about the Cambridge Magazine trip and your curious hands."

"That was a long time ago. My hands are really different now!"

"Birdy, it was three weeks ago!"

"But I know better now! I won't touch anybody's desk. I promise."

FRANKLY, FRANNIE by AJ Stern • illustrated by Doreen Mulryan Marts

Can someone get this girl a job!!!!?

She's already got her resume, business cards, and mustard packets (which are so much more grown up than ketchup) ready. So why is it taking eleventeen hundred years?

Frannie's class is visiting the local radio station and the radio host is no where to be found. Should Frannie cover for him—after all, this could be her big break! But what happens when listeners call in with questions, and Frannie doesn't know the answers?

DOGGY DAY CARE

by AJ Stern • illustrated by Doreen Mulryan Marts

One dog. One Frannie. One GIANT MESS!

When Frannie notices her aunt's dog limping, she sees it as her big break to be a vet, so it's off to the veterinarian's office, where she can showcase her doggy-diagnostic skills. But in true Frannie form, all she can pull off is a doggy disaster . . .

Will Angel ever gain control of her powers?

All Angel wanted was to help poor nerdy Max break into the popular crowd. But somehow the wires got crossed and she ended up granting all of Gabi's secret desires instead. Not that Angel has anything against Gabi getting what she wants. It's just that the things Gabi dreams about on the QT-1) starring in a reality TV show with Angel at her side and 2) dating Angel's boyfriend, Cole—just happen to be the stuff of Angel's worst nightmares.

#1 SUPER BURP! by Nancy Krulik • illustrated by Aaron Blecha

The first day at a new school is always the hardest, right? No, not always as George finds out the hard way. On the second day at . . . Sugarman Elementary School, he is suddenly seized by uncontrollable burps, burps so loud they practically break the sound barrier, burps that make him do wild and crazy stuff and land him in trouble with a capital T. One thing is for sure: these are not normal burps, they are magic burps – and they must be stopped! But how?

#2 TROUBLE MAGNET by Nancy Krulik • illustrated by Aaron Blecha

The annual talent show at Shirley S. Sugarman Elementary School is in just a few weeks, and George signs up to be a stagehand. He is determined to do a good job because the new, improved George is responsible and helpful and glad to pitch in. So is comic mayhem coming? Oh yeah, absolutely! But leave it to Nancy Krulik to devise an unexpected way for disaster to strike and bring down the curtain.

Who Was? WHO WAS JIM HENSON?

AVAILABLE NOW

by Joan Holub illustrated by Nancy Harrison

Jim Henson broke into television with a five-minute puppetry segment when he was only a freshman in college. He created puppets like none ever seen before, with expressive fabric faces and rod-controlled arms. His Muppets became world-renowned celebrities and formed the backbone of a media empire. With black-and-white illustrations throughout, this easy-to-read biography will be published twenty years after Henson's untimely death.

Joan Holub lives in Raleigh, North Carolina.

Nancy Harrison lives in Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Periwinkle Smith is back!

Periwinkle Smith loves to look at the night sky. All the stars seem to gather in groups, but there's one that doesn't have any other star friends. Periwinkle is sure that she could be its friend—if only she could find a way to talk to it! Children will love the creative ways in which Periwinkle tries to make one lonesome star her friend.

John & Wendy live in Brooklyn, New York.

A VAMPIRE IS COMING TO DINNER! 10 RULES TO FOLLOW

by Pamela Jane illustrated by Pedro Rodriguez

How would you deal with a vampire?

Yikes! A vampire is coming to dinner! (He invited himself!) I'd better make a list of rules to follow!

Read along as the narrator of this story comes up with some very practical rules for dealing with a vampire. But rules are meant to be broken, aren't they? From feeding the vampire garlic to filling the house with mirrors, the narrator is doing just that! With ten full-page gatefolds and a pop at the end of the book, kids will love seeing which rules are being followed and which aren't!

Pamela Jane lives in New Britain, Pennsylvania.

Pedro Rodriguez lives in Barcelona, Spain.

MANY MARVELOUS MONSTERS by Ed Heck

Monstrously magnificent!

Many marvelous monsters show off their special skills in a wacky talent show! Purple Pete proudly performs puppet plays in a plaid pullover, Swarly the squishy slug softly sings some silly songs, and the rest of the monstrous crew can do many, many more monstrously miraculous things. The silly (not scary!) monsters and their tongue-twisting talents will have kids and their parents laughing through each act!

Ed Heck lives in Brooklyn, New York.

They call him Cale. He is destined to save the world... ...or destroy it.

Introducing a debut novel of astonishing scope and imagination, featuring a darkly gifted teenage boy at the center of a brutal holy war

"Listen. The Sanctuary of the Redeemers on Shotover Scarp is named after a damned lie, for there is little redemption that goes on there and less sanctuary."

With that opening line, Paul Hoffman grabs the reader refuses to let go. The Left Hand of God is the first novel in an epic, ambitious trilogy that will prove irresistible to the readers who have turned the Inheritance Cycle, Twilight, and His Dark Materials series into publishing phenomena.

The Left Hand of God is the story of sixteen-year-old Thomas Cale, who has grown up imprisoned at the Sanctuary of the Redeemers, a fortress run by a secretive sect of warrior monks in a distant, dystopian past. He is one of thousands of boys who train all day in hand-to-hand combat, in preparation for a holy war that only the High Priests know is now imminent. He has no reason to think he's special, no idea there's another world outside the compound's walls, and no hope for a life any different from the one he already knows.

And then, Cale opens a door.

What follows is a daring escape, an unlikely alliance, a desperate pursuit, a journey of incredible discovery, and an adventure the likes of which Cale could never possibly have imagined, culminating in Cale's astonishing realization that he alone has the power to save his world—or to destroy it.

Paul Hoffman lives in London. The Left Hand of God is his North American debut.

• The Left Hand of God is an international sensation. The first book in Hoffman's trilogy is scheduled to be published in twenty languages in 2010.

One of the most popular writers of paranormal fiction and #1 New York Times bestselling author of the young adult Darkest Powers series makes her debut on the Dutton list, with the new novel in her New York Times bestselling Otherworld series

At twenty-one, Savannah Levine—orphaned daughter of a notorious dark witch and an equally notorious cutthroat sorcerer—considers herself a full-fledged member of the otherworld. The once rebellious teen has grown into a sixfoot-tall, motorcycle-riding jawdropper, with an impressive knowledge of and ability to perform spells. The only problem is, she's having a hard time convincing her adoptive parents, Paige and Lucas, to take her seriously as an adult. She's working as the research assistant at the detective agency they founded, and when they take off on a romantic vacation alone leaving her in charge, Savannah finds herself itching for a case to call her own. (She's also itching for Adam, her longtime friend and colleague, to see her as more than just a little girl, but that's another matter.)

Suddenly, Savannah gets the chance she's been waiting for: Recruited by another supernatural detective, she travels to Columbus, Washington a small, dying town. Two troubled young women have been found in an abandoned warehouse, murdered. Now a third woman is dead, and on closer inspection, small details point to a darker forces at play. Savannah feels certain she can handle the case, but with signs of supernatural activity appearing at every turn, things quickly become more serious—and far more dangerous than she realizes.

Praise for Kelley Armstrong:

"Kelley Armstrong is one of my favorite writers."

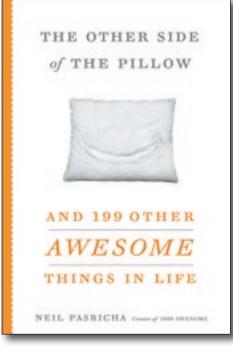

—Karin Slaughter, New York Times bestselling author of Indelible

"Kelley Armstrong's frisky first novel, Bitten...tells a rather sweet love story, and suggests that being a wolf may be more comfortable for a strong smart woman than being a human." —The New York Times Book Review

"Bitten...did much the same thing for werewolves that Ann Rice did for vampires in her Interview with the Vampire." —Rocky Mountain News

Kelley Armstrong is the author of the New York Times bestselling Women of the Otherworld series, as well as the young adult trilogy Darkest Powers and other titles. She lives in rural Ontario.

Simple Abundance for a new, hipper, wired generation—celebrating all of the small, simple pleasures we take for granted.

The Other Side of the Pillow reminds readers of the little things that should make us smile everyday, but which we often overlook:

- Fixing electronics by smacking them
- Wearing underwear just out of the dryer
- Watching The Price Is Right when you're home sick
- The first shower you take after not showering for a really long time
- When you get the milk to cereal ratio just right
- Popping bubble wrap
- When cashiers open up new checkout lanes at the grocery store
- Sleeping in new bed sheets

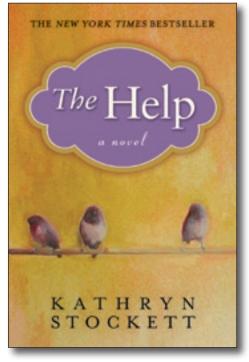

Filled with often very touching and funny observations, this collection offers simple pleasures that will leave you feeling one way: AWESOME!

The website for "1000 Awesome Things" has had 5 million hits since its launch and won the prestigious Best Blog Webby Award for 2009 (previous recipients invlude "PostSecret").

"Neil's writing might be described as optimism for the rest of us. Sunny without being saccharine, it's a countdown of life's little joys that reads like a snappy Jerry Seinfeld monologue by way of Maria Von Trapp." —Misty Harris, Canwest News Service

Neil Pasricha is the author of the blog "1000 Awesome Things" that The Other Side of the Pillow is based on. Neil's writing has appeared in on Yahoo! and in Cosmopolitan, New York magazine, and The National Lampoon.

The phenomenal bestseller is also a teen favorite!

Segregation and the civil rights movement may have happened in the 1960s—but Kathryn Stockett's novel makes them come alive in a way history books can't. Twenty-twoyear-old Skeeter isn't like her friends: she's not married, she wants to be a writer, and she wants to write about the one thing no white person in Jackson Mississippi ever wants to talk about—how the black maids are treated. She also wants to know what happened to her own beloved maid who disappeared without a trace. Skeeter starts interviewing her friends' maids, regal Aibileen, and tough talking Minnie and discovers that while she may have gone to college, she doesn't know anything about the real world.

"The best book ever."

Kathryn Stockett was born and raised in Jackson, Mississippi. After graduating from the University of Alabama with a degree in English and creative writing, she moved to New York City, where she worked in magazine publishing and marketing for nine years. She currently lives in Atlanta with her husband and daughter. The Help is her first novel. Visit her website at KathrynStockett.com.

THE LOST SUMMER OF LOUISA MAY ALCOTT A NOVEL by Kelly O'Connor McNees

In the bestselling tradition of Loving Frank and March comes a novel for anyone who loves Little Women.

Millions of readers have fallen in love with Little Women. But how could Louisa May Alcott—who never had a romance write so convincingly of love and heartbreak without experiencing it herself?

Deftly mixing fact and fiction, Kelly O'Connor McNees imagines a love affair that would threaten Louisa's writing career—and inspire the story of Jo and Laurie in Little Women. Stuck in small-town New Hampshire in 1855, Louisa finds herself torn between a love that takes her by surprise and her dream of independence as a writer in Boston. The choice she must make comes with a steep price that she will pay for the rest of her life.

Kelly O'Connor McNees is a former editorial assistant and English teacher. Raised in Michigan, she now resides with her husband in Chicago.

A third installment in the delightfully disgusting miscellany series that began with the national bestseller Why You Shouldn't Eat Your Boogers and Other Useless or Gross Information About Your Body.

In the New York Times (extended list) bestseller Why You Shouldn't Eat Your Boogers and Other Useless or Gross Information About Your Body, Francesca Gould uncovered everything you'd want to know—and a few things you'd rather you didn't—about the human body. In Why Fish Fart and Other Useless or Gross Information About the World, she scoured planet Earth for a rich assortment of odd and/or unsavory facts. In Why Dogs Eat Poop and Other Useless or Gross Information About the Animal Kingdom, Francesca Gould and David Haviland explore a subject positively rife with gross miscellany: the animal kingdom. Indeed, animals do the darnedest things and, in this vastly entertaining book, Gould and Haviland uncover a universe of strange, hilarious, and quite often disgusting animal habits, ailments, and practices, including:

- Monkey-Faced Lamb disease,
- farting snakes,
- dino-chickens,
- and a creature you've never heard of that eats with its eyes.

Francesca Gould is the author of the New York Times (extended list) bestseller Why You Shouldn't Eat Your Boogers and Other Useless or Gross Information About Your Body and Why Fish Fart and Other Useless or Gross Information About the World. She lives in Bristol, England.

David Haviland is a journalist, ghostwriter, and editor. He lives in England.

EVERY DOG HAS A GIFT TRUE STORIES OF DOGS WHO BRING HOPE & HEALING INTO OUR LIVES

by Rachel McPherson

Inspiring stories of dogs who do good.

Anyone who has ever had a relationship with a dog will tell you: They want nothing more than to give love and be loved in return. In Every Dog Has a Gift, Rachel McPherson draws on her experience as the founder and executive director of The Good Dog Foundation, the largest animal-assisted therapy organization on the East Coast, to tell the amazing stories of dogs that bring hope and healing into our lives.

Much has been said about the heroic roles dogs played following 9/11 and Hurricane Katrina in providing support and comfort for the families and victims of these terrible tragedies, but the truth is that millions of dogs around the world are heroes every day. These therapy and service dogs (and often quite ordinary, "uncertified" dogs just like your own!) can:

- serve as the perfect audience for kids who need help with practicing reading;
- hold troubled families together;
- comfort the dying and their loved ones within hospice settings; and
- provide a calm and centering presence for autistic children.

Every Dog Has a Gift is a celebration of the gift that each and every dog possesses: the ability to bring the healing power of unconditional love into our lives.

- A percentage of the author's proceeds will benefit The Good Dog Foundation.
- The Good Dog Foundation has been featured on the Today show, CNN, and PBS and in the New York Post, Bark magazine, the Daily News, Dog Fancy magazine, and elsewhere.
- The Good Dog Foundation was honored on the floor of the Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show for its work with Hurricane Katrina survivors and received awards from the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA) and the American Red Cross for its work at Ground Zero helping the families and victims of 9/11.

A bestselling journalist documents her daughter's passage into adolescence as she attempts to hold on to their relationship

All too often the loving relationship between a little girl and her mother shifts into a bitter grudge match between teen and parent. Having been estranged from her mother during her own adolescence, journalist Lauren Kessler is terrified that she will lose her daughter in the same way. Working to avoid this, Kessler draws on her professional skills and follows her daughter from the seventh grade to her eighth grade graduation, charting the subtle changes in their relationship. With the help of a team of experts consisting of teachers, doctors, and other mothers, Kessler immerses herself in her daughter's world, exploring the fascinating foreign culture of today's teen. As an engaging, informative guide, Kessler puts a personal slant on a universal struggle, illuminating the mother-daughter dynamic from both sides of the experience. My Teenage Werewolf is a fascinating chronicle of the most important relationship in a woman's life.

Lauren Kessler has written five nonfiction books, including Dancing with the Rose: Finding Life in the Land of Alzheimer's and the bestsellers Clever Girl and The Happy Bottom Riding Club. Her work has appeared in The New York Times Magazine, Los Angeles Times Magazine, O, The Oprah Magazine, and The Nation. She is the director of the graduate program in literary nonfiction at the University of Oregon.

THE PRICE OF STONES BUILDING A SCHOOL FOR MY VILLAGE by Twesigye Jackson Kaguri with Susan Urbanek Linville

The extraordinary story of one man's gift of hope to the "untouchable" children of Uganda

Jackson Kaguri's is an unusual and inspiring success story. Born in rural Uganda, he overcame poverty to earn a degree from the national university and eventually made his way to Columbia University, where he found a calling as a human rights champion. When he returned to Uganda with his American bride, he was overwhelmed by the swelling numbers of abandoned AIDS orphans and vowed to open the first tuition-free school for these children. After a series of obstacles, including a domineering father, corrupt school inspectors, and a lack of supplies, he and his wife doggedly built one schoolroom after another until they had an accredited primary school with students dreaming of becoming the future doctors, teachers, lawyers, engineers, and even presidents of Uganda. The Price of Stones is the stirring story behind the Nyaka AIDS Orphans School. Weaving together tales from his youth with the remarkable challenges and triumphs of the school, Kaguri shows how the school is, like the microcredit miracles taking place in South Asia, a modest idea capable of monumental results. His story will captivate all readers of Three Cups of Tea and Tracey Kidder's Strength in What Remains.

Formerly a visiting scholar in Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs, Twesigye Jackson Kaguri is the associate director of development at Michigan State University in Lansing, Michigan.

Susan Urbanek Linville is a biologist and writer, and a volunteer at Kaguri's Nyaka School in Uganda. She lives in Pennsylvania.

Celebrate Children's Book Week! The 91st annual observance of Children's Book Week will be May 10-16, 2010. A celebration of the written word, Children's Book Week introduces young people to new authors and ideas in schools, libraries, homes and bookstores. Through Children's Book Week, the Children's Book Council encourages young people and their caregivers to discover the complexity of the world beyond their own experience through books. Special materials will be available from the Children's Book Council including posters, bookmarks, and other items to decorate your walls, promote your events, and, most importantly, encourage kids to read. Be sure to visit the Children's Book Council's website at www.cbcbooks.org for more information, ideas, and materials for Children's Book Week 2010.
