

A book about everything* for everyone

From Hong Kong to Reykjavik, and Ulaanbaatar to New York City, come on a lush and unexpected journey around the world to discover the many things that make each place unique. Sleepy sloths, colorful cows, staggering skylines, burglarizing baboons... you'll be surprised by what you find along the way! All you need is a good guide and a little curiosity... so what are you waiting for? Let's go!

From Marc Martin, author and illustrator of the New York Times Best Illustrated Picture Book, A River, comes a quirky, fact-filled adventure for curious globe-trotters, young and old.

YOU ARE HERE

...or maybe you're here?

Maybe one day you'll go here.

A NOTE FROM THE AUTHOR

How many cats live in Cairo? How many languages are spoken in New York? What is pylsusinnep? These are just some of the many questions you might ask about the world we live in.

The following pages are a gathering of facts, thoughts, and observations about our planet as seen through the eyes of an artist. Some may intrigue you, some may surprise you, and some may leave you with more questions than answers.

From cities to forests and from deserts to oceans, there's so much to discover. All you need is a good guide and a little curiosity...

So what are you waiting for? Let's start exploring!
