

THE LOST BRIDE TRILOGY

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. When Inheritance opens, Sonya MacTavish is just about to hit rock bottom in both her personal and professional lives. She regroups by starting a freelance business while still living in the home she shared with her ex-fiancé. Not perfect, but it's working for her. Then Oliver "Deuce" Doyle shows up at her door to tell her she's inherited a house and all that's inside it from an unknown uncle in Maine. After some due diligence, she decides to go. Would you ever pick up and leave what is familiar to try something new?
2. When telling her mother and Cleo about the inheritance from an unknown uncle, Sonya shares photos of the man and the house. Winter MacTavish recognizes both – the man looks like her husband who painted paintings of the house. Did that kind of synchronicity make you curious about what was to come?
3. What did you think of the Doyles naming the Olivers Ace, Deuce and Trey? Do you have interesting family names that help avoid mixing up people?
4. Both Deuce and Trey indicated The Lost Bride Manor was haunted, Sonya was unfazed by that. Would you have been?
5. What was the most interesting ghostly action you read about before their personalities came through?

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

6. More to the point, if you could have a ghost staff what would you want them to do around the house? Which was your favorite ghost in the manor?
7. Nora's always written about interesting pets. What was your reaction to Mookie, Yoda and the superior Jones?
8. Hester Dobbs is a nasty ghost. Would you have stayed away from her "room" and that floor or confronted her as necessary?
9. Did you like learning about the brides through Sonya's trips through the mirror or the separate scenes on the day of the brides' weddings/deaths?
10. Would you have preferred that Brandon get the Heather Dobbs treatment or were you in agreement with Sonya's strength, the pets determination and the accuracy of Jack and Clover's throws/kicks?
11. Nora found hundreds of songs for Clover to communicate with Sonya, Cleo, Trey and Owen (Winter as well). Which songs called to you the most?
