

"This book, when it opens its sails to gale forces of feeling, leads one to shed ones sophistication and openly root for love, to cheer for it, to even shed a tear for it, as Damoff sticks the landing and at long last it comes."

—MATTHEW THOMAS, NEW YORK TIMES-BESTSELLING AUTHOR OF WE ARE NOT OURSELVES

A poignant meditation on the ways we find meaning in life

Unflinching exploration of the resonant effects of loss

How much can a family forgive?

A rich family saga with long-buried secrets

On sale April 1, 2025 | Fiction | Hardcover: 978-1-66806-144-2 | $27.99 USD, $36.99 CAD | Simon & Schuster